what can we know and what should we believe about today's world what to believe now applying epistemology to contemporary issues applies the concerns and techniques of epistemology to a wide variety of contemporary issues questions about what we can know and what we should believe are first addressed through an explicit consideration of the practicalities of working these issues out at the dawn of the twenty first century coady calls for an applied turn in epistemology a process he likens to the applied turn that transformed the study of ethics in the early 1970s subjects dealt with include experts how can we recognize them and when should we trust them rumors should they ever be believed and can they in fact be a source of knowledge conspiracy theories when if ever should they be believed and can they be known to be true the blogosphere how does it compare with traditional media as a source of knowledge and justified belief timely thought provoking and controversial what to believe now offers a wealth of insights into a branch of philosophy of growing importance and increasing relevance in the twenty first century secrets and conspiracies have always played an important role in human history and today conspiracy theories have become a rather disconcerting practice for picturing our world and our relations with each other how seriously are we to take them then are we to completely discard them as political rhetoric purposeful misinformation or even individual delusions or should we take them as serious perhaps even scientific theories this collection purports to provide a sober analysis of the much debated issues and tries to develop and outline conceptual and theoretical tools to make sense of what secrets and conspiracies truly are this volume contains the seminal articles that define the influence of aquinas within legal philosophical thought a comprehensive reference for those new to the field it covers such topics as the relation of virtue to law the common good natural law natural rights and property rights together with social and political issues like abortion feminism homosexuality environment civil disobedience and just war attention is devoted to the new natural law theory and its limitations as well as the place of historical context in the recovery of social thought
