for countries as diverse as china and mauritius special economic zones sezs have been a powerful tool to attract foreign investment promote export oriented growth and generate employment for many others the results have been less than encouraging while the benefits and limitations of zones will no doubt continue to be debated what is clear is that policymakers are increasingly attracted to them as an instrument of trade investment industrial and spatial policy since the mid 1980s the number of newly established zones has grown rapidly in almost all regions with dramatic growth in developing countries in parallel with this growth and in the evolving context of global trade and investment zones are also undergoing significant change in both their form and function with traditional export processing zones epzs increasingly giving way to larger and more flexible sez models this new context will bring significant opportunities for developing countries to take advantage of sezs but will also raise new challenges to their successful design and implementation this volume aims to contribute to a better understanding of the role and practice of sezs in developing countries in order to better equip policymakers in making effective decisions in planning and implementing sez programs it covers some of the emerging issues and challenges in sezs including upgrading regional integration wto compliance innovation the environment and gender issues with practical case examples from sez programs in developing countries in this book china s special economic zones areas in which foreign and domestic entrepreneurs are offered investment incentives for setting up modern manufacturing plants are thoroughly analyzed for their economic potential with special emphasis on shenzhen the most advanced of the zones special economic zones sezs have become a permanent feature of the world trade scene this book the first to provide a critical and comprehensive analysis of sezs covering a wide spectrum of countries and regions shows how sezs albeit established at the domestic level by different countries raise multiple legal issues under international economic law this first rate book is the product of the asia fdi forum iv held in hong kong in 2018 thoroughly exploring the development of the sez phenomenon and its players the contributing authors all leading economic law experts review the issues raised by sezs in the context of international trade law international investment law and investment arbitration they identify the extent to which sezs have been coherent in their design and policymaking in particular with regard to domestic law reforms they address such aspects both core themes and specific examples as the following investment protection in china s sezs state owned enterprises regulation dispute settlement under what circumstances incentives available in sezs count as export subsidies prohibited under world trade organization wto rules compliance with internal market rules in european union eu free zones local populations as victims of land expropriation brazil s manaus free trade zone india s experience with multiple sezs the administrative approval system in the shanghai free trade zone economic corridors and transit routes as sezs refugee cities sezs for migrants how china s supreme people s court serves national strategy how foreign investors challenge free zone regimes impacts of the establishment of sezs on tax revenues sezs and labour migration and management models the chapters also include insights into the new emerging generation of international investment agreements wto accession transparency and case law materials clarifying specific trade issues associated with sezs and new rules to protect the environment and labour rights as well as analysis of crucially significant cases such as goetz v the republic of burundi lee jong baek v kyrgyzstan and ampal american and others v egypt with its critical and comprehensive analysis of the dynamic sez phenomenon across legal economic investment regulatory and policy matrices including a thorough analysis of the success factors and required policies for sezs this book takes a giant step towards answering the question whether sezs fundamentally contradict norms of international law or whether sezs have to be considered as laboratories which facilitate the implementation of international economic policies its careful examination of theory and practice and its approach to lessons learned from case studies will reward trade and investment officials policymakers diplomats economists lawyers think tanks business leaders and others interested in this ever more important area of law and economics first published in 1999 this volume assessed the economic situation of shenzhen in guangdong province china including its trade connections with hong kong and foreign investments in the area designated as one of four special economic zones sez as part of china s domestic economic reform in 1979 weiping wu examines shenzhen s economic situation in the context of hong kong s transition just two years prior to publication in 1997 wu explores the developments in shenzhen in local policy labor costs export performance domestic linkages and complementarity with hong kong as a result of hong kong s closer connection with the shenzhen trade area shenzhen s suitability can then be assessed in its role as an sez to experiment with and digest western technology and management techniques for inland china and as a buffer between china and the wider world
