this book is the first in a two volume project that provides the first systematic interpretation of martin heidegger s fundamental ontology as a critical social ontology it argues that fundamental ontology is at its core an emancipatory enterprise in that it is animated by an intent shared with critical theory viz to make philosophy concrete for the sake of individual and collective freedom focused on division one of being and time this volume maintains that the possibilities of individual emancipation and self actualization are inextricably bound to their environmental and intersubjective preconditions an adequate ontology of the self therefore is possible only as a social ontology to fulfill its emancipatory aims however it is necessary to show that the fact that individuals are always already appropriated by society does not preclude the possibility of authentic self appropriation hence this volume critically reconstructs the core commitments of the appropriative approach to social ontology and distinguishes between the foundational and peripheral aspects of fundamental ontology the final part addresses important criticisms that have impeded a fruitful dialogue between fundamental ontology and critical theory to clear the ground for a fresh re appraisal of the former as an emancipatory project the privacy of the self was the first collection of papers showing the development of the author s thinking over twenty five years of clinical work he was nurtured in the tradition of anna freud john rickman and d w winnicott but his contribution to psychoanalytic literature was a distinctive and personal one what emerges from this book is the natural and private crystallization of his experiences with his patients and teachers as he says in his preface psychoanalysis is an extremely private discipline of sensibility and skill the practice of psychoanalysis multiplies this privacy into a specialized relationship between two persons who through the very nature of their exclusivity with each other change each other the first thing i wish to say about my work reported in these papers is that my patients have helped me become and personalize my potential of thought affectivity and effort into a way of life that i find deeply satisfying
