an approachable overview of the nature purpose and functional roles of chaplaincy chaplaincy is unlike any other kind of ministry it involves working outside a church without a congregation usually in a secular organization it requires ministering to those with starkly different religious convictions many of whom may never enter a house of worship it is as alan baker writes ministry in motion those who are embarking upon this unique and specialized call deserve equally unique and specialized guidance and foundations of chaplaincy offers exactly that baker surveys the biblical and theological foundations of chaplaincy before enumerating four specific responsibilities and skills that define chaplaincy's ministry of presence providing facilitating caring and advising baker's thorough guidance on these matters is supplemented in sidebars with practical advice and anecdotes from over thirty chaplains currently serving in a variety of settings and organizations chaplains who serve in healthcare the military correctional institutions police and fire departments sports teams college campuses and corporations have essential roles to play in their respective organizations but theirs is rarely an easy calling with foundations of chaplaincy as an introduction and an ongoing reference those called to this important vocation may be assured of having the tools they need to cultivate a strong mission driven pastoral identity rooted in their own theological tradition while simultaneously participating in a multi faith team how has domestic life been reorganised to accommodate the new u s imperial ambitions what are the consequences of empire for the people living here at home this new collection of essays answers these questions by exploring the cultural political and economic shifts that are now under way in the united states encouraging a radical rethinking of what the country is today this book highlights the connection of u s imperial strategies to the production of insecurity uncertainty and deepening inequality at home rethinking america also explores the instabilities and contradictions of the new imperialism from the unique vantage point of the newly emerging u s homeland comprised of work from leading figures in the field of u s ethnography this book is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the changes taking place in the united states in the early years of the twenty first century mass incarceration is one of the most pressing ethical and political issues of our time in this volume philosophers join activists and those incarcerated on death row to grapple with contemporary u s punishment practices and draw out critiques around questions of power identity justice and ethical responsibility this work takes shape against a backdrop of disturbing trends the united states incarcerates more of its own citizens than any other country in the world a disproportionate number of these prisoners are people of color and today a black man has a greater chance of going to prison than to college the united states is the only western democracy to retain the death penalty even after decades of scholarship statistics and even legal decisions have depicted a deeply flawed system structured by racism and class oppression motivated by a conviction that mass incarceration and state execution are among the most important ethical and political problems of our time the contributors to this volume come together from a diverse range of backgrounds to analyze critique and envision alternatives to the injustices of the u s prison system with recourse to deconstruction phenomenology critical race theory feminism queer theory and disability studies they engage with the hyper incarceration of people of color the incomplete abolition of slavery the exploitation of prisoners as workers and as raw material for the prison industrial complex the intensive confinement of prisoners in supermax units and the complexities of capital punishment in an age of abolition the resulting collection contributes to a growing intellectual and political resistance to the apparent inevitability of incarceration and state execution as responses to crime and to social inequalities it addresses both philosophers and activists who seek intellectual resources to contest the injustices of punishment in the united states
