this fourth edition of this best selling core history textbook offers a richly illustrated single volume narrative introduction to african history from a hugely respected authority in the field the market leading range of illustrated material from prior editions is now further improved featuring not only additional and redrawn maps and a refreshed selection of photographs but the addition of full colour to make these even more instructive evocative and attractive already hugely popular on introductory african history courses the book has been widely praised for its engaging and readable style and is unrivalled in scope both geographically and chronologically while many competitors limit themselves to certain regions or eras shillington chronicles the entire continent from prehistory right up to the present day for this new edition both content and layout have been thoroughly refreshed and restructured to make this wealth of material easily navigable and even more appealing to students unfamiliar with the subject new to this edition now in full colour with fresh new design part structure and part intros added to help navigation new and improved online resources include a new testbank interactive timelines lecturer slides debates in african history essay questions and further readings revised and updated in light of recent research now fully revised and updated this classic text offers an illustrated and critical narrative introduction to the history of africa from earliest times to the present beginning with the evolution of mankind itself the book traces the history of africa through the millennia of the ancient world to the centuries of medieval and modern africa the clear and simple language and the wealth of carefully chosen maps and photos combine to make an essential and accessible text covering the entire continent from morocco libya and egypt in the north to the cape of good hope in the south and the surrounding islands from cape verde in the west to madagascar mauritius and seychelles in the east this a z reference examines the history of the entire african continent with entries ranging from the earliest evolution of human beings in africa to the beginning of the twenty first century this comprehensive three volume encyclopedia is the first reference of this scale and scope in nearly 1 100 entries the encyclopedia not only examines the well established topics in african history but also looks at the social economic linguistic anthropological and political subjects that are being re evaluated or newly opened for historical analysis by recent research and publication based on a series of detailed case studies this book presents the history of genocide in africa within the specific context of african history examining conflicts in countries such as burundi democratic republic of congo namibia rwanda and sudan why has africa been the subject of so many accusations related to genocide indeed the number of such allegations related to africa has increased dramatically over the past 15 years popular racist mythology might suggest that africans belong to tribes that are inherently antagonistic towards each other and therefore engage in tribal warfare which cannot be rationally explained this concept is wrong as timothy j stapleton explains in a history of genocide in africa the many conflicts that have plagued post colonial africa have had very logical explanations and very few of these instances of african warring can be said to have resulted in genocide authored by an expert historian of africa this book examines the history of six african countries namibia rwanda burundi democratic republic of congo sudan and nigeria in which the language of genocide has been mobilized to describe episodes of tragic mass violence it seeks to place genocide within the context of african history acknowledging the few instances where the international legal term genocide has been applied appropriately to episodes of mass violence in african history and identifying the many other cases where it has not and instead the term has been used in a cynical manipulation to gain some political advantage readers will come to understand how to a large extent genocide accusations related to post colonial africa have often served to prolong wars and cause greater loss of life the book also clarifies how in areas of africa where genocides have actually occurred there appears to have been a common history of the imposition of racial ideologies and hierarchies during the colonial era which when combined with other factors such as the local geography demography religion and or economics resulted in tragic and appalling outcomes travel and the pan african imagination explores the african atlantic world as a productive theater or space where modernity racialized dominance and racialized resistance took form the book stresses the importance of placing three atlantic figures the charleston south carolina based armed resistance leader denmark vesey the west african emigration advocate edward wilmot blyden and the christian missionary and teacher in liberia as well as the united states alexander crummell within an atlantic context and as african world community figures between the late eighteenth and early twentieth centuries the book also examines the religious origins of black power ideology and modern pan africanism as products of the intense dialogue within the african world community about concepts of modernity progress and civilization tracy keith flemming identifies how travel and social mobility led to the generation of an ever more complex and dynamic atlantic world and of a fluid and adaptive african world community imagination for those figures who were forced to operate within and against a racially framed universe the vexing social position and symbolic figure of the african was central to the dilemmas facing the racialized imagination of african world community figures and the discipline of africology this handbook places emphasis on modern contemporary times and offers relevant sophisticated and comprehensive overviews it aims to emphasize the religious economic political cultural and social connections between africa and the rest of the world and features comparisons as well as an interdisciplinary approach in order to examine the place of africa in global history this book makes an important contribution to the discussion on the place of africa in the world and of the world in africa an outstanding work of scholarship it powerfully demonstrates that africa is not marginal to global concerns its labor and resources have made our world and the continent deserves our respect mukhtar umar bunza professor of social history usmanu danfodiyo university sokoto and commissioner for higher education kebbi state nigeria this is a deep plunge into the critical place of africa in global history the handbook blends a rich set of important tapestries and analysis of the conceptual framework of african diaspora histories imperialism and globalization by foregrounding the authentic voices of african interpreters of transnational interactions and exchanges the handbook demonstrates a genuine commitment to the promotion of decolonized and indigenous knowledge on african continent and its peoples samuel oloruntoba visiting research professor institute of african studies carleton university volume 1 of this undergraduate history textbook covers the origin of hominids through to the middle ages encyclopedia of the peoples of africa and the middle east is a two volume a to z reference to the history and culture of the peoples of africa and the middle east this book is a compendium of european businesses within the african continent conducted with good intentions positively motivated from the first time arabs and europeans set foot on african soil however it later became complicated and sour due to unfair gaming by one side greed and avarice on the other and negative compromises on both sides the original objective of this trade was to exchange goods for goods each side playing fairly and ultimately delivering the dividends of mutual business relationships when this transaction became intriguing it unfortunately got screwed up and turned into the buying and selling of humans as domestic servants and later into human cargoes meant for international shipment the west has tried in multiple ways many times to fix their past misdeeds however the measures applied idiosyncratically metamorphosed into the abolitionist nightmare of civil war colonization imperialism economic slavery segregation marginalization and brutalization of one people and one race all attempts to correct these evils of the past by subsequent generations have also proven very difficult due to a couple of reasons including unfairness and injustice because as the saying goes he who must come to equity must come with clean hands source unknown an injustice to one is an injustice to all and an injustice anywhere is an injustice everywhere martin luther king jr all the above were far from being the case and as such nothing seems to make those misgivings go away the issue at hand right now is that the injustice is so widespread that if left unchecked the aftermath will be worse than what the world is witnessing today from the effects of climate change migration tsunamis wars ethnic cleansing and habitat displacement from most ancestral homes this book suggests remedies that will prove to be better than what the governments of the world today are proffering as the solution to the apocalyptic problems of our time there should be a restructuring of lending practices and an overhauling of the world's monetary policies by better regulated agencies devoid of the lending malpractices of bodies like the world bank and the international monetary fund there should be an equitable redistribution of world collective wealth good enough to build structures that will be attractive enough to compel young people to stay and work in their ancestral homes countries of origin and earn a decent living wage in effect these restructurings will strengthen world bodies like the united nations un world trade organization wto unicef and the world food programme this is a comprehensive introduction to world civilizations to 1500 it covers each major civilization such as china india and europe and provides points of comparison between and among these civilizations it emphasizes breadth and accessibility and contains a wealth of primary source documents beautiful full color maps and interesting teaching and learning supplements to help students appreciate the complexity of the topic while enjoying its application to their lives a study which covers the history of the african sub continent from pre history to the present day it concentrates on the history of the african people of the region showing their political organizations and economic activities both before and after europ the organization of african unity oau fielded the first successful african mandated multinational peacekeeping operation in chad in 1981 1982 rather than being a strictly humanitarian mission may shows how the force evolved as a foreign policy tool of nigeria supported by france and the united states he details every meeting conference between 1979 and 1981 that discussed a peacekeeping option for chad and offers an exhaustive examination of the logistics deployment and operations of the oau peacekeeping mission values include a set of principles ideas or beliefs that guide an individual and society in an endeavor to carry out defined objectives or national program or purposes related to the attainment of political social and economic goals for the benefit of the people as a result values are very important to national leadership this book focuses on pertinent political and social issues in botswana south africa and tanzania during the leadership of seretse khama nelson mandela and julius nyerere respectively it is a critical analysis of the nature of good and effective national leadership in these three nations based upon the values that the leaders embraced to serve their respective countries drawing implications for other countries of the region the author demonstrates what he considers to be good national leadership by providing insights into the political careers of seretse khama of botswana nelson mandela of south africa and julius nyerere of tanzania the values that these three national leaders shared in common and which made them successful include integrity loyalty to principle honesty respect to democracy confidence in the ability of the people to make viable contribution to national policy and programs this volume makes a distinction between modern nigerian art music which evolved in the twentieth century and emphasizes western music notation and the previously existing art music tradition in nigeria before the advent of missionaries in the nineteenth century specifically this research examines the social political and cultural factors involved in the evolution and practice of art music in nigeria
