in the first pages of the zibaldone leopardi had noted that the love of learning induces a passion for philosophy making it a foundational element of modern culture in this perspective then no doubt remains as to the prominent position of voltaire's candide or of rousseau's thought which combines philosophical thinking educational demands political passion and autobiography however in order to move from the count to the novel from the apologue and from the treatises to complex characters who also maintain a strong and speculative allure one had to leave the 18th century experience romanticism feed the rêveries of the new promeneurs solitaires during the following century with the restlessness and the questions of dostoevsky kafka sartre camus and of pirandello proust musil and many others of those who combined the passion for short stories with the unmasking of any deceptive theodicy bringing the novel back to bourgeois intertwining and existential anxieties starting from cervantes's ironic way of thinking in the absence of declarations however where does one find the evidence of the presence of the philosophique in the novel or how does one identify texts pertaining to the definition of roman philosophique this book conceived and edited by anna dolfi does not only raise the problem but tries to solve it as well at the same time it brings the ideas of the novel and from the novel together with constructive theories and compares the insignificant with significance mythical emblems and codes semiosis and destiny while also observing how language in the parade of the authors changes itself and even touches the figurativeness of the graphic novel this volume constitutes the final point of arrival of a path which in samples locks significant fragments in the otherwise infinite kaleidoscope of narration
