what follows in this book is the story of my life 1937 1968 it is a story of a sometimes difficult journey from troubled childhood to self discovery as an adult on the way i learnt to overcome adversity and to take responsibility for my decisions and actions this learning process was mainly achieved through travel which was and still is an abiding passion for many years i tried to compartmentalize some events and memories from my early childhood which were unpleasant and better suppressed i found that looking ahead was considerably more positive than dwelling on the past there is an old buddhist saying if you are looking in the right direction all you have to do is keep on walking i have done a lot of walking this book was born out of an idea that i had during the period in which i spent time with several young people who had approached me to assist them in different ways including personal development career advancement and growth as well as growing their businesses and entrepreneurial acumen and skills i took the challenge but felt that more could be achieved hence this book the chapters in this book are written by each one of these young people they chose the topics guided by me and the plan was to simply convey a message from each one of them about leadership they did not do this for fame or to sell this book to make money but to share their ideas the topics covered in this book will appeal to different readers and some readers might find more lessons in one chapter or in more chapters than one i urge each one of you who read this book to pick one or a few lessons and share it with those you wish to make a difference to mentorship of young people is critical but this does not mean that the mentors will provide handouts in the form of money people who wish to grow are not interested in money they are interested in a piece of your generous heart mike teke these are just two children out of the thousands descended from the cornish mining men who worked around the world beginning in the 19th century prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring but homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers they need information and answers to their questions and with the current educational and unemployment problems in south africa young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals in addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system homeschooling high school also challenges readers to rethink their values particularly the value they place on certification and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success in a clearly presented format the book includes advice on legal matters identifying appropriate courses sourcing study material tips on entrepreneurship financing tertiary studies and the testimonies of successful homeshooled graduates homeschooling high school is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond cannon fodder an english boy raised and blooded in the cannon s mouth like many english couples exhausted and disenchanted after world war one douglas baker s mother and father emigrated with their children to south africa searching for new opportunities to settle the restlessness that the war had engendered in them south africa itself was a potpourri of races and cultures which offered opportunities that favoured some whilst allowing them to retain their very english culture douglas himself born in england had to contend with conditions in the foreign land in which his family had chosen to raise him south africa was a war torn nation where there had been 82 fiercely fought battles against indigenous peoples like the zulus more recent settlers like the immigrant boers german colonials and more recently rebellious elements bordering on civil war added to this furore a mix of contending civilizations was the discovery of gold and diamonds on the rand and at kimberly which added to the excitement and competition it was through the english residents and empire builders like Cecil Rhodes that the curse of apartheid and its stark regulations were challenged cannon fodder is the prequel to War Wine Valour published in 2005 and documents the author s childhood up to his volunteering to fight for king and country during the second world war douglas baker is a remarkable man and has written a remarkable book as an infantryman he rescued a wounded comrade at Gazala while under intensive cross fire in the carnage at Alamein a shell took away most of his right shoulder blade he retrained on sherman tanks near florence an 88mm shell burst on his tank perforating his right lung and almost severing his left arm he absconded from hospital and fought once more at the front although just one man's experience of the war it is a gift to the historian with its engrossing accounts and accurate detail it is also a fascinating insight into day to day events and personal feelings during this difficult time he is undecorated and receives no military pension from the british government william roach mbe douglas baker now in his eighty eighth year is a medical doctor academic and public speaker who has spent the past fifty years researching the hidden facets of human nature the second volume of the author's autobiography war wine and valour describes in vivid detail the six arduous years he spent in the british armed forces during world war two born in england but raised in south africa he responded to the threat of nazism and barely sixteen years old enlisted in the natal mounted rifles his regiment faced axis forces on five fronts in kenya central abyssinia cyrenaica and with the british eighth army he participated in the battle of el alamein in which he was dangerously wounded during the italian campaign he fought with the united states fifth army and again suffered near mortal injuries when his sherman tank was hit with enemy shell fire through six years of active service he came to understand the psychology of men at bay when confronted repeatedly with bombardment direct attack and sustained terror the experience of war evoked in him curiosity and discovery which led to the mastery of medicine at sheffield university interweaving the narrative are detailed descriptions and maps thoroughly researched of the major battles that the author and his comrades participated in their first hand experience adds richness to these events this is a remarkable story of a remarkable man
