against all odds the it story of india is an insider s account and an anecdote rich history of indian it over the last six decades it taps into the first hand experiences of kris gopalakrishnan and fifty other stalwarts who built and shaped the it industry this is a tale of persistence and resilience of foresight of planning and being ready when luck knocks on the door of a spirit of adventure and above all of an abiding sense of faith in technology and the belief that it would do good for india it is a tale of triumph and the best is yet to come india is sitting on a demographic dividend expected to become the world's youngest country by 2020 with 64 per cent of its population roughly 800 million people of working age but our country cannot become a global powerhouse unless we resolve the contradictions and bridge the gaps that distort our society the challenge before us is to enable every one of india's 1.2 billion citizens to realize their aspirations according to nandan nilekani and viral shah the only way to do this is by using technology to radically reimagine government itself rebooting india identifies a dozen initiatives where a series of citizen friendly high tech public institutions can deliver low cost solutions to india's grand challenges based on their learnings from building aadhaar the world's largest social identity programme the initiatives that nilekani and shah propose could save the government a minimum of rs 100 000 crore annually about 1 per cent of india's gdp enough to fund 200 mangalyaan missions a year it doesn't take 10 000 people or even a thousand say nilekani and shah all it would take is a small focused team of highly skilled enterprising individuals and a supportive prime minister the essays in the reader debate the scope of informality for generating economic social and political change from discussing the conceptual challenges behind the development of a new political economy based on the philosophical legal and social architecture of other markets to exploring how changing global relations are already initiating new forms of urban practice these analyses provide a thorough understanding of what is at stake in the new geography of informal market worlds with contributions by teddy cruz keith hart jiang jun lawrence liang map office vyjayanthi rao ananya roy saskia sassen abdou maliq simone gayatri chakravorty spivak ignacio valero matias viegener and others the accompanying atlas brings together more than 80 case studies on the spatial and visual culture of informal markets from around the world this book paints a bold and inspiring scenario of india becoming an affluent society by 2039 that is within a generation from now it makes a persuasive case as to why such a scenario could be plausible even more importantly the book very appropriately and frankly assess the many hurdles political social policy and institutional that the country must overcome to realize this vision and lift millions of indians from relative poverty today to enjoy the fruits of a modern and inclusive affluent society within 30 years or so its agenda of inter generational issues is central to india avoiding the middle income trap that so many other countries have fallen into however india can successfully tackle this trap only by addressing and addressing urgently and head on the various facets of governance highlighted in the book features unique to this study unlike other vertical studies that treat a topic in depth but on its own this book tries to connect the dots between the key issues that could decide the future of indian society it has a longer 30 year perspective with a corresponding emphasis on challenges that require long gestation to address it offers a projection not of what will be but of what india s potential is a collection of over a decade of articles interviews and speeches by rohini nilekani samaaj sarkaar bazaar a citizen first approach showcases her journey in civil society and philanthropy she outlines her philosophy of restoring the balance between the state and markets by positioning society as the foundational sector is there a fundamental new catalyst that can significantly enhance access affordability and quality of products and services to hundreds of millions of indians this catalyst is in the form of a new generation of start up founders who are leveraging technology platforms smartphone access and rapid digitization of the indian consumer these young founders don t carry the baggage of the past and are attracted to the opportunity of breaking open the massive market of middle india the next 400 500m indians just below the top of the pyramid this book is about this new and powerful force of change blowing across india what it takes to harness this and reshape the destiny of this country
