every time bill bryson walks out the door memorable travel literature threatens to break out this time in australia his previous excursion along the appalachian trail resulted in the sublime national bestseller a walk in the woods in a sunburned country is his report on what he found in an entirely different place australia the country that doubles as a continent and a place with the friendliest inhabitants the hottest driest weather and the most peculiar and lethal wildlife to be found on the planet the result is a deliciously funny fact filled and adventurous performance by a writer who combines humor wonder and unflagging curiosity despite the fact that australia harbors more things that can kill you in extremely nasty ways than anywhere else including sharks crocodiles snakes even riptides and deserts bill bryson adores the place and he takes his readers on a rollicking ride far beyond that beaten tourist path wherever he goes he finds australians who are cheerful extroverted and unfailingly obliging and these beaming products of land with clean safe cities cold beer and constant sunshine fill the pages of this wonderful book australia is an immense and fortunate land and it has found in bill bryson its perfect guide bill bryson recounts his escapades in australia the only island that is also a continent and the only continent that is also a country discusses the historical origins beliefs arts family life cultural clashes with whites and future hopes of the aboriginal people of australia bill bryson explores the life and work of shakespeare as a travelogue of sorts narrating his quest for the bard his conversations with shakespearean actors with the curator of shakespeare s birthplace with academics who have dedicated their lives to studying the plays and poems and of course reporting on his own exploits in stratford upon avon about the book this is a country that loses a prime minister and that is so vast and empty that a band of amateur enthusiasts could conceivably set off the world s first non governmental atomic bomb on its mainland almost four years would pass before anyone noticed clearly this is a place worth getting to know in a sunburned country is bill bryson s seventh book on travel published just five years after his much celebrated travelogue of great britain notes from a small island the book takes on a much bigger topic australia the book was published just before the 2000 olympic games in sydney and some later editions have an appendix chronicling bryson s time spent as a spectator yet the focus of the book is on bryson s several trips to the massive island over the course of a year bryson finds himself hopping back and forth between various points in australia his home in new england and a few other international locales he never strays for long though and much of the book is spent in the car and at dozens of hotels pubs and attractions along australia s 23 000 mile coastline excerpt from the book next we meet alan howe an old friend from london along with his wife carmel howe takes bryson on several adventures to natural wonders many of which are quite near his vacation home in the hills after journeying with howe for a few days bryson again strikes out on his own and heads north towards brisbane in the midst of his travels he digresses into a chapter about australia s native people the aborigines the history is unbelievable the aborigines are an incredibly ancient tribe who still astound scientists today after a short time walking the beaches of the gold coast and extolling the history of the area bryson departs returns home for a time then returns for the final leg of his trip in part three around the edges bryson careens towards the wilder parts of the country he is accompanied by allan sherwin a friend from london the most exciting leg of his journey begins as he travels to great barrier reef and braves the sharks and waves native to the area buy a copy to keep reading when european royalty meets australian outback the throne of alp d estella lies empty prince regent maxsim de gautier travels to the outback to find the next heir eight year old orphan marc max isn't expecting to be confronted by a feisty woman who is fiercely protective of her adopted family although pippa donahue is wary of this dashing prince she cannot deny marc his heritage nor her attraction to max so she agrees to spend one month in his royal kingdom will it be enough to convince pippa and the kids to stay and for max to make her his royal bride please note this is a companion version not the original book sample book insights 1 australia is a difficult country to keep track of we rarely pay attention to them and this is strange considering they are a country that doesn't misbehave and is peaceful and good 2 because we know so little about australia it is a country that is worth getting to know it is the only country that began as a prison and the only one that is also a continent 3 australia is a country full of strange and dangerous animals it is the home of the great barrier reef and the largest monolith ayers rock it has more things that will kill you than anywhere else 4 australia is a country full of life that is difficult to believe exists in such an inhospitable environment it is the driest flattest hottest most desiccated and climatically aggressive country yet it teems with life in numbers uncounted
