follow john michael weber as he chronicles life at the bottom of a heroin addict this true story of his addiction sheds light into the darkness of addiction and a brighter light on the salvation that saves many like himself

there are the mysterious and there are the strange and unusual things that are imagined imagined to emerge events that are imagined or proven that they occurred or will occur there are things that are kept in the closet me the closet and the cave i d say for me anyway and there are things that are beautiful people that are beautiful people that are powerful but to jump back to mystery what of the origin of the most beautiful and most powerful in creation and contemplation julien decharneux explores the connections between the cosmology of the qur ān and various cosmological traditions of late antiquity with a focus on syriac christianity the first part of the book studies how in exhorting its audience to contemplate the world the qur ān carries on a tradition of natural contemplation that had developed throughout late antiquity in the christian world in this regard the analysis suggests particularly striking connections with the mystical and ascetic literature of the church of the east which was in effervescence at the time of the emergence of islam the second part argues that the qur ānic cosmological discourse is built so as to serve the overarching theological message of the text namely god s absolute unity despite the allusive and sometimes obscure way in which the qur ān talks about the world s coming into being and its maintenance in existence the text betrays its authors acquaintance with cosmological debates of late antiquity in studying the qur ān through the prism of late antiquity this book contributes to our understanding of the emergence of islam and its relationship with other religious traditions of the time winner of the 2022 marie antoinette van huele prize and the 2023 richard kreglinger prize both faculty of philosophy and social sciences free university of brussels although national and international aspects of the global sport system have become more important in the past decades it is still at the local level where most of the sporting activities are realized in order to draw attention to this aspect the european association for the sociology of sport eass chose the title local sport in europe for its 4th conference that was held in münster germany in 2007 this volume is a collection of papers that were presented at this conference containing amongst others the three keynote lectures by horst hübner local sports activity and sports facilities fabien ohl local sport between identity and economy and gertrud pfister sport for all opportunities and challenges in different sport systems the papers cover a great variety of topics that mirror problems and issues of contemporary society such as violence racism gender and health issues but also current problems of funding and organizational changes in the field of sport the volume is subdivided into three principal themes sport culture and society sport ethics and identity and sport management and politics in listening in the afterlife of data david cecchetto theorizes sound communication and data by analyzing them in the contexts of the practical workings of specific technologies situations and artworks in a time he calls the afterlife of data the cultural context in which data s hegemony persists even in the absence of any belief in its validity cecchetto shows how data is repositioned as the latest in a long line of concepts that are at once constitutive of communication and suggestive of its limits cecchetto points to the failures and excesses of communication by focusing on the power of listening whether through wearable technology internet based artwork or the ways in which computers process sound to pragmatically comprehend the representational excesses that data produces writing at a cultural moment in which data has never been more ubiquitous or less convincing cecchetto elucidates the paradoxes that are constitutive of computation and communication more broadly demonstrating that data is never quite what it seems
