although there has been an increase in research on terrorism across the social and behavioural sciences in the past few decades until recently most of this work has originated from political science psychology or economics therefore our focus in this book on criminological conceptual frameworks and empirical studies that engage terrorism and responses to it is unique we include a distinguished group of researchers that offer their distinctive insights into criminological perspectives on terrorism the contributors focus on criminological perspectives that have rarely if ever been previously applied to the study of terrorism this includes a range of perspectives from rational choice to social disorganization from strain to routine activities theory this volume will advance understanding of terrorism by taking advantage of criminological contributions and at the same time will serve as a useful update to the criminologists and their students already working in this area it would also be a helpful introduction to those criminologists and their students who would like to be more engaged in this important area of research this book was originally published as a special issue of terrorism and political violence social media has played a central role in the digital era for almost a century influencing almost all aspects of life the use of social media in warfare is threatening not only one country but the whole global community is a recent development the famous speech by abu muhammad al adnani on social media inspired the bloody month of ramadan in 2016 and showed the deadly power of social media inspired attacks and what the islamic state is capable of achieving although the terrorist group has lost territory over the last few weeks of combat both in syria and iraq and is on the edge of losing their main capital mosul is still remains a hybrid threat consisting of military powers and an unmatched affinity of using social media as a cyber war weapon is will continue to be a severe danger to the global community this book aims to foster a deeper understanding of the use of social media for recruiting efforts by the so called islamic state is and to analyse its propaganda methods in order to develop possible countermeasures a special focus will be put on the method of recruitment of young western foreign fighters these individuals are the easiest to recruit for isis and pose the greatest risk to the global community especially in regards to home grown terrorism and so called lone wolf attacks since this area of research is very new and quickly evolving the field still needs extensive research it is difficult to analyse the use of social media content by the islamic state due to limited information access and flow encryption propaganda verification and inconsistency the islamic state is a military threat on the battleground as well as a potential cyber threat for the international community despite these challenging circumstances this book will provide a new theoretical model based on the marketing model of a customer journey in connection with the main principles of storytelling ultimately this research work will try to provide experts with a new and modern approach of analysis as a base for possible counter measures to weaken and combat the

this book offers a guide to interpreting available statistical data on terrorism attacks around the world the global terrorism database gtd now includes more than 113 000 terrorist attacks starting in 1970 by analyzing these data researchers demonstrate how a very small number of terrorist attacks have had an outsized effect on attitudes and policies toward terrorism these attacks referred to as black swan events are difficult to predict but have an enormous impact on human affairs for years to come the book discusses terrorist attacks such as 9 11 possibly the most high profile black swan event in living memory by putting them into context with thousands of less publicized attacks that have plagued the world since 1970 historically the study of terrorism has suffered from a general lack of empirical data and statistical analysis this is largely due to the difficulty of obtaining valid data on a topic that poses significant collection challenges however this book makes use of the fact that the gtd is currently the most extensive unclassified database on terrorism ever collected while there have been summaries of the research literature on terrorism and important analyses of international terrorism event data this is the first book that provides a comprehensive empirical overview of the nature and evolution of both modern international and domestic terrorism this book will be of interest to students of terrorism and political violence criminology international security and political science in general this paper is a contribution to the debate on the risks of money laundering and the financing of terrorism in botswana it provides an overview of botswana s anti money laundering and counter financing of terrorism aml cft regimes an analytical framework woven around the three pillars of prevention enforcement and international co operation is used in this discussion as a benchmark for the discussion the paper outlines the international regulatory regimes for curbing both money laundering and the financing of terrorism the paper is premised on the assumption that both money laundering and the financing of terrorism have similar characteristics and can thus be analysed within the same framework a number of risks are highlighted within the prevailing economic and political context in botswana while recognising an increasingly improving aml cft legal framework it is noted that in the absence of a risk based approach to these issues the realisation of international standards will remain a challenge
