The aim of this book is to provide an insight into the landmark rulings of the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU) in European criminal law. EU criminal justice is a fast-developing and challenging area of EU law and policy that requires scholars from different disciplines to join forces. This book is a first attempt to establish such synergies coming from different angles. The authors deal with questions in the area of EU substantive criminal law such as when criminalisation of conduct is an appropriate choice, how the process of de-criminalisation could be advanced, what the role of evidence could be in this regard, and what consequences criminalisation decisions at EU level have for national legal orders. The book concludes with a demonstration of how similar issues arise in the field of procedural criminal law.

This fifth volume of the Governance of Security GFS Research Paper Series addresses a wide variety of topical issues focusing on European criminal justice and financial and economic crime. The first cluster of articles is concerned with European criminal justice matters particularly relating to EU mutual recognition such as conceptualization, unwanted effects in the context of prisoner transfer and sentence execution, impact for cross-border gathering and use of forensic expert evidence and interrogational fairness standards. A second cluster of articles addresses the subjects of financial and economic crime ranging from informal economy among street children to formal informal economy, vulnerability of the hotel and catering industry to crime, and white-collar crime phenomena like transnational environmental crime and corruption. A final cluster groups together a variety of selected topical issues including juvenile offending and mental disorders, desistance theories, and sexually transmitted infections.
