Johansson's Global Marketing 5e utilizes a three-pronged framework to organize the discussion of how to conduct global business: foreign entry, local marketing, and global management. Johansson seeks to develop the varied skills a marketing manager needs to be successful in each of these tasks. The discussion progresses from how to market an existing product outside of the domestic market to how to develop a new product for specific local markets and then broadens the scope to discuss marketing and management topics from a global managerial perspective. Legal, regulatory, political, and cultural issues are discussed as appropriate throughout the text. Excellent examples and cases, many of which are drawn from the author's rich international experience, help students move from concept to application.

This book proposes a theoretical framework identifying external and internal factors that influence internationalization strategy of Chinese brands and brand performance. It explores several key strategies: e.g., standardization versus adaptation, price leadership versus branding, OBM export versus OEM export, and incremental versus leap forward internationalization model. The relationships are examined between various international marketing mix: e.g., distribution channel and pricing strategies and brand performance through case studies. The text also analyses the internationalization of contract-based firms.

This volume provides important benchmarks for the integration of entrepreneurship and international business. It extends scholarship beyond the firm as single unit of analysis, instead including the role of the founder/entrepreneur. Exploration of this domain discusses possibilities for theory revision or development as well as providing information about an under-researched segment of companies.
