political ties with senior government officials as a result the territory of these peoples has been threatened and their rights not to mention the national and international laws that protect them have been challenged the awajun and wampi s communities and their representative organizations have continuously demanded the following the reestablishment of the original proposal to create the national park and the cancelation of mining concessions neither have been granted by authorities this situation serves as a basis for the claims made by the indigenous movement that led to massive demonstrations in 2008 and 2009 in addition to a prolonged strike which culminated in the bloody events of bagua june 5 2009 when the government violently intervened to evacuate the awajun and wampi s contingents that had blocked a highway
