this is the second volume in a series of three books called within language beyond theories which focuses on current linguistic research surpassing the limits of contemporary theoretical frameworks in order to provide new insights into the structure of the language system and to offer more comprehensive accounts of linguistic phenomena from a number of the world's languages the volume is composed of eighteen chapters each focusing on a significant issue in the field of applied linguistics

the object of this volume is the study of missionary translation practices which occur within a colonial context of political domination and spiritual conquest missionary translation becomes especially manifest in bilingual ethnographic descriptions in bilingual catechisms and in the missionaries' lexicographic condensation of bilingual dictionaries the study of these instances permits the analysis and interpretation of their guiding principles their translation practice and underlying reasoning it also permits the modern linguist to discern semantic changes that can be revealed in these missionary translations over certain periods up to now there has hardly been any study available that focuses on translation in missionary sources of the different traditions in the Americas or Asia this book will fill this gap addressing the legacy of missionary translation practices and theories the role of translation in evangelization and its particular form in the context of colonialism the creation of loans from Spanish or Latin or equivalents or paraphrases in the indigenous languages in texts and dictionaries as translation strategies followed in bilingual editions the process of acculturation and transculturation imposed by European religious systems is noted this volume presents research on languages such as Nahuatl Tarascan Purépecha Zapotec Tamil Chinese Japanese Pangasinan and other Austronesian languages from the Philippines the volume is highly relevant to the current regional and international discussion on endangered languages language contact documentation and areal typology the publication is the outcome of a fruitful theoretical and methodological exchange between latin american scholars and international scholars working in other regions most of the papers target latin american languages additionally new insight into the contact situations in indonesia iran australia and papua new guinea is provided
