The authors discussed in this volume depict music as a mystical, shamanistic, and spiritual power that can miraculously transform the realities of the soul and of the world. Here the musician uses his or her music as a weapon to shield and protect his or her spirituality. Written by scholars of English, Music, Women's Studies, American Studies, Cultural Theory, and Black and Africana Studies, the essays in this interdisciplinary collection ultimately explore the thematic, linguistic, structural presence of music in twentieth-century African American fiction.

This is the introductory volume to the first dictionary on the etymological relations between ancient Egyptian and other Afro-Asiatic languages. Gábor Takács' new multi-volume etymological dictionary of Egyptian, now to appear at regular intervals of about 12–18 months, will be a hallmark in Egyptian and Afro-Asiatic linguistics. The amount of material offered, the extensive treatment of scholarly discussions on each item, and the insights into the connections of Egyptian with its related Afro-Asiatic languages, including many new lexical parallels, will make it an indispensable tool for comparative and interpretative purposes and the unchallenged starting point for every linguist in the field. Volume 1, the opening volume of the dictionary, can rightly be called the key to the work. It not only provides the users with a comprehensive analysis of the Afro-Asiatic background of the Egyptian consonant system but also offers a critical appraisal of linguistic theories on Egyptian historical phonology, the problems surrounding the origins of the Egyptian language, and an extensive bibliography. To the dictionary volumes to appear
