this study provides a new interpretation of art after modernism by foregrounding the importance of conceptual thinking as a pervasive force for change in art and art history since 1950 robert bailey shows how distinctions between art and art history gave way as conceptual thinking provided artists and art historians with a common means to reassess what art could be and do in the world bailey assesses the results of artful and scholarly inquiries combining creative activity with intellectual rigor to proffer new approaches to a variety of social and environmental concerns ranging from questions about human identity including race class gender and sexuality to activist efforts to redress everything from abortion access to migrants rights to climate change this book provides both a historical overview of these developments and close analyses of key works and texts spanning 1950 to the present and encompassing broad geographic scope with special attention paid to indigenous art the book will be of interest to scholars working in art history and contemporary art for most of the last century the methodology of art history has followed a positivist approach emphasizing form and style fact and history as the means of studying works of art by contrast the philosophical pursuit of truth once central to the fine arts and humanities has largely been abandoned in for the love of beauty arthur pontynen offers a searching and ambitious critique of modern aesthetic practice that aims to restore the pursuit of the knowledge of reality being to its rightful place pontynen begins by addressing the question of why the pursuit of truth be it called dao dharma god logos ideal etc is no longer acceptable in academic circles even though it has been intrinsic to the purpose of art at most times and in most cultures lacking the pursuit of truth of some degree of knowledge of what is true and good the humanities necessarily lack intellectual and cultural grounding and purpose fields of study such as philosophy music art and history are therefore trivialized and brutalized pontynen s focus on the study of the visual arts details the how the denial of purpose and quality in modernist and postmodernist aesthetics has denied art any possibility of transcending entertainment therapy or propaganda in place of the established narratives pontynen offers a counter narrative based on a cross cultural pursuit of the good the true and the beautiful he recognizes that substantively different cultural traditions exist and that the truth claims of each may be valid in whole or in part he shows how the history of art parallels the intellectual history of western culture and how these parallels affect both aesthetics and ethics pontynen engages with those elements of modernist and postmodernist thought that might be true his purpose is not simply to deny their validity but to engage a viewpoint that does not privilege the notion of a purposeless cosmos for the love of beauty will be of interest
