this volume reasserts the significance of roman philosophy by exploring how the romans developed sophisticated forms of philosophical discourse shaped by their own history concepts and values as well as crucially by the latin language for students of the new testament wanting a background into greek and roman philosophy to help them better understand the new testament text this book offers a survey of the greek philosophical tradition from its inception in the classical period until the final stages of its evolution beginning in the first part of late antiquity covering the pre socratics the classical philosophers the major schools of the hellenistic period the stoics epicureans academics the rise of roman philosophy developments and revivals in the post hellenistic period and the emergence of christianity as a philosophy while making greek and roman philosophy its central feature the book s underlying interest is the relevance of these traditions to the early christian movement especially the new testament for although christianity is rooted in and ineradicably linked with judaism its shoots quickly extended outward into the greco roman world where it was able to flower and propagate only by competing with the intellectual traditions of the greek speaking world above all the philosophical traditions a knowledge of these traditions therefore is an essential complement to the study of second temple judaism for serious students of the new testament and early christianity it is the purpose of this book to offer such an introduction the philosophers of the roman world were asking questions whose answers had practical effects on people s lives in antiquity and which still influence our thinking to this day in spite of being neglected in the modern era this important age of philosophical thought is now undergoing a revival of interest mark morford s lively survey makes these recent scholarly developments accessible to a wide audience examining the writings and ideas of both famous and lesser known figures from cato the censor in 155 bce to marcus aurelius in 180 ce based around extensive and fully translated quotations from the philosophical texts of the era full consideration is given throughout to historical political and cultural context an accessible overview of how the principles of thought which dominate our civilization came to be from philosophy s ionian beginnings to neo platonism the history of philosophy reveals what was said at the beginning from the start man wanted to know why on the shores of asia minor men like heraclitus or parmenides found a wealth of mental material which language at the time could not convey this thought developed into the mighty teachings of plato and aristotle and furthered its advance under the stoics then the noble character of plotinus dominated the scene and this developed into neo platonism where greek philosophy struggled to unify itself thales heraclitus socrates plato and aristotle to see each thinker in his true perspective it is necessary to study the philosophical background against which he worked the progress of philosophy is nonlinear and difficult to trace a history of greek and roman philosophy seeks to reveal the interdependence of one school of thought upon another and in their own particular historical settings then to be able to recognize a philosopher s point of departure from the material upon which he had been educated the purpose of this book is to widen and inform the scope of the general reader to offer a greater understanding of the effort humanity made to grasp the truth in an educational environment that introduces students to great soldiers sailors statesmen and politicians space must be made for learning about history s greatest thinkers
