over the course of a distinguished career critic leo bersani has tackled a range of issues in his writing and this collection gathers together some of his finest work beginning with one of the foundations of queer theory his famous meditation on how sex leads to a shattering of the self is the rectum a grave this volume charts the inspired connections bersani has made between sexuality psychoanalysis and aesthetics over the course of these essays bersani grapples with thinkers ranging from plato to descartes to georg simmel foucault and freud recur as key figures and although foucault rejected psychoanalysis bersani contends that by considering his ideas alongside freud's one gains a clearer understanding of human identity and how we relate to one another for bersani art represents a crucial guide for conceiving new ways of connecting to the world and so in many of these essays he stresses the importance of aesthetics analyzing works by genet caravaggio proust almodóvar and godard documenting over two decades in the life of one of the best minds working in the humanities today is the rectum a grave and other essays is a unique opportunity to explore the fruitful career of a formidable intellect engaging with fears of lesbian death to explore the value of lesbian beyond identity the loss of lesbian spaces as well as ideas of the lesbian as anachronistic has called into question the place of lesbian identity within our current culture in lesbian death mairead sullivan probes the perception that lesbian status is in retreat exploring the political promises and especially the failures of lesbian feminism and its usefulness today lesbian death reads how lesbian is conceptualized in relation to death from the 1970s onward to argue that lesbian offers disruptive potential lesbian death examines the rise of lesbian breast cancer activism in san francisco in conversation with act up the lesbian separatist manifestos the c l i t papers the enduring specter of lesbian bed death and the weaponization of lesbian identity against trans lives by situating the lesbian as a border figure between feminist and queer lesbian death offers a fresh perspective on the value of lesbian for both feminist and queer projects even if her value is her death luce irigaray has written that sexual difference is one of the major philosophical issues if not the issue of our age spanning metaphysics phenomenology and psychoanalysis her work examines how sexual difference structures being and subjectivity organizes our experience of the world and affects the images and discourses involved in knowledge production and practical action no other philosopher has paid such careful attention to the consequences of the elision of sexual difference in philosophical thought however at a time when notions of sexual and gender difference are hotly contested irigaray's thought has often been dismissed as essentialist or reductively binary this book brings together leading scholars to consider the philosophical implications of irigaray's writing on sexual difference particularly for issues of gender and race their essays directly confront the charge of essentialism exploring how irigaray's thought opens new possibilities for understanding the complexity of gender identities including nonbinary and trans experiences as well as alternative configurations of masculinity and femininity though irigaray is sometimes accused of a failure to appreciate racial difference contributors show the productive role of her work in thinking race this book also illuminates how irigaray's work provides creative practices that help realign human experience and our relations with nature and each other
