how can we make sense of violence in the bible joshua commands the people of israel to wipe out everyone in the promised land of canaan while jesus commands god s people to love their enemies how are we to interpret biblical passages on violence when it is sanctioned at one point and condemned at another the violence of the biblical god by l daniel hawk presents a new framework solidly rooted in the authority of scripture for understanding the paradox of god s participation in violence hawk shows how the historical narrative of the bible offers multiple canonical pictures for faithful christian engagement with the violent systems of the world for most of the church s history people have seen christian ethics as normative and universally applicable recently however this view has been lost thanks to naturalism and relativism r scott smith argues that christians need to overcome kant s fact value dichotomy and recover the possibility of genuine moral and theological knowledge
