the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries saw the establishment of the new safavid regime in iran along with reuniting the persian lands under one rule the safavids initiated the radical transformation of the religious landscape by introducing imami shi ism as the official state faith and in this as in other ways laying the foundations of iran s modern identity in this book

leading scholars of iranian history culture and politics examine the meaning of the idea of iran in the safavid period by examining contemporary experiences of both insiders and outsiders asking how modern scholarship defines the distinctive features of the age while sometimes viewed as a period of decline from the high points of classical persian literature and the visual arts of preceding centuries the chapters of this book demonstrate that the safavid era was nevertheless a period of great literary and artistic activity in the realms of both secular and theological endeavour with the establishment of comparable polities across western southern and central asia at broadly the same time the book explores some of the literary and political interactions with iran s ottoman mughal and uzbek neighbours as the volume and frequency of european merchants and diplomats visiting safavid persia increased especially in the seventeenth century and as more iranians recorded their own travel experiences to surrounding muslim lands the safavid period is the first in which we can document and explore the contours of iran s place in an expanding world and gain insights into how iranians saw themselves and others saw them this lavishly illustrated volume with many images previously unpublished in colour collects 25 articles by bernard o kane on a wide variety of topics pertaining to persian architecture in its widest sense his analyses range from historiography and tilework to the development of the domes of iranian mosques he covers the buildings of the major medieval dynasties the seljuqs ilkhanids and timurids as well as the formerly neglected monuments of the chaghatai muzaffarid kartid and jalayirid dynasties and uzbek monuments in afghanistan a chilling account of the tradeoff we are willing to make between interactive media technologies and the power of others to watch over and control us this brave new world of electronic marketing and consumption actually lulls consumers into blissful ignorance of how that usage can be and is being monitored
