from john bradshaw one of the world s leading experts on animal behaviour and the author of the sunday times bestseller in defence of dogs cat sense is a scientific portrait of the true surprising nature of cats worshipped as gods feared as demonic servants seen as both wild opportunists and beloved companions cats often seem as unfathomable enigmatic and magical to us today as they did in ancient times they have lived with humans for at least ten thousand years far earlier than the reign of the pharaohs and today are the most popular pet in the world that they now outnumber the dog man s best friend by three to one is small wonder at once affectionate and self reliant they seem to be perfectly suited to our busy 21st century lifestyles yet cats still think like the wild scavengers and hunters from which they are descended and to which they can quickly revert today they face unprecedented challenges in their life with humans from conservationists who cast them as a threat to wildlife from other cats who they compete for territory with and from good intentioned owners and vets with misconceptions of what they require cats need not so much our sympathy but our understanding if they are to continue to enjoy our companionship the recent surge in feline science with john bradshaw at the forefront means we are now better equipped to understand them than ever before cat sense offers us for the first time a true picture of one of humanity s closest and most enigmatic companions praise for in defence of dogs the most fantastic book a revelation observer essential reading daily telegraph nothing less than a manifesto for a new understanding guardian a case grounded in kindness and science authoritative wise and rather moving independent a wonderful reassuring and encouraging book literary review a wonderfully informative passionate book economist john bradshaw is a biologist who founded and directs the world renowned anthrozoology institute based at the university of bristol he has been studying the behaviour of domestic cats and their owners for over 25 years and is the author of many scientific articles research papers and reviews he is also the author of the sunday times bestseller in defence of dogs based on cutting edge science this bestselling book on the inner lives of cats is for any who may wonder what their feline companions are really thinking the new york times in cat sense renowned anthrozoologist john bradshaw takes us further into the mind of the domestic cat than ever before using cutting edge scientific research to dispel lingering myths and explain the true nature of our feline friends tracing the cat s evolution from lone predator to domesticated companion bradshaw shows that although cats and humans have lived together for eight thousand years cats remain independent predatory and wary of contact with their own kind qualities that often clash with our modern lifestyles to live in harmony with our cats bradshaw explains we first need to understand their inherited quirks including understanding their body language and managing both their natural hunting instincts and their relationships with other cats a must read for any cat lover cat sense offers humane penetrating insights about the domestic cat that challenge our most basic assumptions and promise to dramatically improve our pets lives and ours amazing guardian from the on screen experts for bbc2 s cat watch and based on their groundbreaking research this is the ultimate guide to making your cat a happier more sociable animal the idea of a trained cat is a contradiction in terms isn t it naturally solitary wary easily threatened by newcomers they are attached to place rather than people and much of their antisocial behaviour arises in situations where that attachment is threatened but as cat experts sarah ellis and john bradshaw argue such stress induced behaviour can be prevented reduced even eliminated by training a comprehensive and engaging step by step guide the trainable cat will help you to help your cat negotiate the complexities of everyday life to enjoy living with humans including new babies and lively toddlers and other pets to answer to their name settle into a new home and to overcome the anxiety of a visit to the vet you can train your cat to do what is in its own best interests even when its instincts tell it otherwise i doubt you ll find a more well informed or scientific book on cats that better shows you how feline thinking works the times in kindred spirits anne benvenuti visits with individuals and groups working in animal conservation rescue and sanctuary programs around the world we meet not only cats and dogs but also ravens elephants cheetahs whales farm and circus animals monkeys even bees a psychologist and storyteller benvenuti focuses on moments of transformative contact between humans and other animals portraying vividly the resulting ripples that change the lives of both animals and humans noting that we are all biologically members of one animal family she expertly weaves emergent understandings of animal and human neurobiology showing that the ways in which other animals feel and think are actually similar to humans love grief fear rage sadness curiosity play these are shared by us all a key insight of affective neuroscience that informs benvenuti s perceptions of human animal relationships she effortlessly drops clues to understanding human motivation and behavior into her narratives and points to ways in which we all other animals and humans alike must come up with creative responses to problems such as climate change as we travel with her to both backyard and far flung locations we experience again and again the surprising fact that other animals reach back to us with curiosity interest even care benvenuti writes for the animal loving public but also for anyone who loves a good story or is interested in ecology animal welfare psychology or philosophy
