in the world we want peter karoff presents a collective vision of an ideal world by sharing his experiences and through conversations with more than forty social entrepreneurs activists nonprofit leaders and philanthropists who are changing notions of the human condition in africa asia eastern europe latin america and north america he describes how new partnerships and approaches are reducing suffering and gaining greater equity for people everywhere these visionaries are engaged in a struggle of sorts and that conscious engagement the shoulder to the wheel is a fundamental part of the world they want the book weaves together multi sector multidiscipline strategies but in large part it is about the power of human connection reinforced by personal stories of motivation and the human capacity for caring without ignoring the institutional and cultural obstacles and the courage needed to face down the dark side of human behavior karoff shows how citizen engagement and open source solutions could tip the scale toward a better world a wake up call to britain and the global economy the state we re in will hutton s explosive analysis of british society was the biggest selling politico economic work since the second world war now as the world realigns itself in the wake of september 11 hutton turns his attention to the global picture and the ways in which the new world should be ordered to understand the global economy hutton argues one must first understand the united states where over the past 30 years the forces of conservatism have achieved such supremacy as to reduce liberalism to a term of abuse the results have been dire america is a weaker fragmented society and its economic strenths are oversold and misunderstood but britain and europe are different our attitudes towards property equality social solidarity and the public realm are strikingly distinct from america's current conservative leanings europe should not be afraid to stand up against the american version of globalisation and champion the cause of a reinigorated international society taking over the mantle now abandoned by the us this collection of poetic expressions entitled slices of life moments meals meanings and the world we share is a compendium of genuine heartfelt emotions sometimes funny sometimes weird sometimes emotionally touching sometimes philosophical and undoubtedly often a spontaneous overflow to borrow from wordsworthian concept radhika s the author who penned these poems has given a free play to her innermost self which is driven by the need to be grateful faithful and at times by the mysterious sensibilities that life offers each poem is unique in its own way presenting a kaleidoscopic view of people and moments as perceived by the author herself no doubt the poems are autobiographical inspired by the memories and cherished moments and also by people who made a difference even of the slightest kind in the author's life the book would definitely be a good read to get a glimpse of the interesting and impactful slices of life that everybody can relate to
