in masculinity and queer desire in spanish enlightenment literature mehl allan penrose examines three distinct male figures each of which was represented as the other in eighteenth and early nineteenth century spanish literature the most common configuration of non normative men was the petimetre an effeminate francophile male who figured a failed masculinity a dubious sexuality and an invasive french cultural presence also inscribed within cultural discourse were the bujarr n or sodomite who participates in sexual relations with men and the arcadian shepherd who expresses his desire for other males and who takes on agency as the voice of homoerotica analyzing journalistic essays poetry and drama penrose shows that spanish authors employed queer images of men to engage debates about how males should appear speak and behave and whom they should love in order to be considered real spaniards penrose interrogates works by a wide range of writers including luis ca uelo ram n de la cruz and félix maría de samaniego arguing that the tropes created by these authors solidified the gender and sexual binary and defined and described what a queer man was in the spanish collective imaginary masculinity and queer desire engages with current cultural historical and theoretical scholarship to propose the notion that the idea of queerness in gender and sexuality based on identifiable criteria started in spain long before the medical concept of the homosexual was created around 1870 women s poetry of the spanish early modern period
