the mediterranean is an invented cultural space on the frontier between north and south west and east modern art and the idea of the mediterranean examines the representation of this region in the visual arts since the late eighteenth century placing the idea of the mediterranean a cultural construct rather than a physical reality at the centre of our understanding of modern visual culture this collection of essays features an international group of scholars who examine competing visions of the mediterranean in terms of modernity and cultural identity questioning and illuminating both european and non european representations an introductory essay frames the analysis in terms of a new spatial paradigm of the mediterranean as a geographic historical and cultural region that emerged in the late eighteenth century as france and britain colonized the surrounding territories essays are grouped around three vital themes visualization of the space of the new mediterranean varied uses of the classical paradigm and issues of identity and resistance in an age of modernity and colonialism drawing on recent geographical historical cultural and anthropological studies contributors address the visual representation of identity in both the european and the oriental the colonial and post colonial mediterranean colonialism and homosexuality is a thorough investigation of the connections of homosexuality and imperialism from the late 1800s the era of new imperialism until the era of decolonization robert aldrich reconstructs the context of a number of liaisons including those of famous men such as cecil rhodes e m forster or andré gide and the historical situations which produced both the europeans and their non western lovers colonial lands which in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century included most of africa south and southeast asia and the islands of the pacific and indian oceans and the caribbean provided a haven for many europeans whose sexual inclinations did not fit neatly into the constraints of european society each of the case studies is a micro history of a particular colonial situation a sexual encounter and its wider implications for cultural and political life students both of colonial history and of gender and queer studies will find this an informative read this volume elucidates the dramatic changes taking place in middle eastern cities during the first half of the 20th century during this period radical changes took place with the introduction of new public spheres and places and with these a new society emerged the focus of the contributions is on the development of these changes and how they were experienced and interpreted by the inhabitants of the cities and towns ken jacobson shows that the history of orientalist photography begins weeks after the invention of photography itself jacobson is not an academic but has conducted a great deal of scholarly research on the often obscure careers of photographers and the intertwined histories of the levantine studios he demonstrates that many of the past criticisms of orientalist photography are based on ignorance either of chronology or technology
