one of the best and most popular ways to meet white s first move 1 e4 remains the tried and tested 1 e5 after this move the majority of games steer for the ruy lopez a perfectly fine choice for white but one that requires you to study the countless different setups and follow the continuously evolving theory in that opening karsten müller and georgios souleidis present an alternative that is ideal for the average club player a complete repertoire for white in the italian opening this modern version of the age old giuoco piano with the innocent looking pawn moves c3 and d3 is not only popular at club level but is also regularly adopted by many strong grandmasters including the very best such as magnus carlsen and anish giri the set up is easy to learn and understand and theoretical novelties are much less important than the sound principles it is based on such as the pawn push d3 d4 or bringing the b1 knight over to the kingside and into the attack the slow italian may look innocent but is actually full of venom because white has a lot of options to create aggressive play by making natural looking moves with his pieces müller and souleidis have created a solid weapon that every amateur chess player will delight in playing with a foreword by anish giri

a complete black repertoire against 1 e4 built around the super solid rubinstein the solid rubinstein variation of the french defense despite its having been played by world champions and elite grandmasters it has never been subjected to detailed study the author german international master hannes langrock has produced a book with complete coverage of this line along with solid recommendations for black should white deviate on the second or third move the first edition was widely acclaimed and the second edition has been revised and expanded i never realized that black could take such active measures in the rubinstein variation without significant drawbacks this book is an eye opener and even top grandmasters might find that they have underestimated black s resources in important positions the average tournament and online player will appreciate langrock s straightforward no nonsense style he keeps the complexity of the analysis within bounds and highlights relevant details without drifting into obscure page long analytical byways general themes are clearly presented within the context of illustrative games the result is a book that covers a broad swath of material in a modest number of pages i m sure that you will be well rewarded for its study and come out with a useful new weapon in your chess arsenal international master john watson in his foreword to the first edition following on from the success of volume 1 friedrich georg s second book in the series covers unconventional short and medium range weapons in particular this volume includes a wealth of information about the v rocket programme not just the more familiar v 1 and v 2 but special variants of these two rockets as well as later experimental craft and weaponry following a fascinating examination of pre war efforts to build flying bombs the author examines the v 1 and v 2 projects in great detail particular attention is paid to special variants that have previously received little coverage these include the v 2 a 4 america rocket and v 2s designed to carry nuclear and radiological warheads the capability of the germans to deploy such weapons is also discussed a large number of weird and wonderful projects that never left the drawing board are examined including the fr 35 v 6 v 101 waterfall and naval emw a 7 rockets the fascinating final section examines german plans to utilise such rocketry against london and paris in 1945 as well as recounting the activities of v weapons on other fronts including italy yugoslavia and the eastern front the text is supported by b w photographs and 16 superb pages of colour artwork including profiles computer generated images of designs that never flew and pictures of the author s own models
