the fifth oxford conference was held on september 17th 19th 1991 at the fuji institute of training in japan the first time that the meeting has taken place in the asian area the facts that only a relatively few japanese had attended previous oxford conferences and that japan is far from other regions with possible participants made the organizers anticipate a small attendance at the meeting however contrary to our expectations 198 active members 72 foreign and 126 domestic participants submitted 146 papers from 15 countries this was far beyond our preliminary estimate and could have caused problems in providing accommodation for the participants and in programming their scientific presentations these difficulties however were successfully overcome by using nearby hotels by telecasting presentations into a second lecture room and by displaying a substantial number of poster presentations during the whole period of the meeting the meeting had two types of sessions regular and current topics the first paper in each session represented a short overview or introduction so as to make it easier for the audience to comprehend the problems at issue because of the large number of papers submitted carefully selected speakers mostly well known scholars made excellent presentations that were followed by lively discussions in this way the conference laid a foundation on which to base its continued scientific success
