philip larkin 1992 1985 is today acclaimed as a british national cultural icon historically a movementeer larkin followed the pleasure principle to democratize poetry by forging a distinctive philistine aesthetic by employing a defiantly demotic diction and by building his poems around a structure of rational discourse philip larkin poetry that builds bridges is a well researched and immensely readable book it is perhaps the only work available today that offers a comprehensive critical account of the full range of larkin's poetry a significant contribution to larkin studies this book provides a between the lines analysis of almost all the poems embodied in the four major collections of larkin the north ship the less deceived the whitsun weddings and high windows by exploiting the resources of larkin's letters his prose writings and his biography the author traces much against the grain of contemporary larkin criticism the poet's thematic attitudinal and technical development from one book of his poetry to the next and shows the trend of larkin's evolution with a holistic approach to the total corpus of larkin's poetry the author perspectivises the poet and argues the larkin's achievements lie in his success in building bridges between aestheticism and philistinism between empiricism and transcendentalism between classicism and romanticism between modernism and postmodernism between the native british poetic tradition and the anglo franco american experimental line and above all between poetry and the reading public this book also contends the larkin's vision of life is neither pessimistic nor optimistic but tragic and melioristic begin afresh the evolution of philip larkin's poetry offers incisive insightful and yet lucid analyses of all the individual poems contained in the four major collections of larkin 1922 1985 it also deals with his juvenile poems brunette coleman poems those in in the grip of light and xx poems as well as his last poems the book also discusses larkin's novels and d▯bats it evaluates the critical opinions regarding various aspects of larkin's poetry especially the issue of its development and shows that it may not follow a clearly identifiable linear chronological line of evolution but it does evolve in a subtle way from one phase of his career to the next the book explores how larkin discovered his own original inimitable idiosyncratic poetic voice by truly democratising english poetry for the first time by writing accessible and pleasurable poetry and by forging a new poetic out of a philistine aesthetic which stands out as an artistic holotype it shows how larkin restores the relation between poetry and the reading public a relation which was broken down by modernist poets it also establishes how his poetic vision is neither optimistic nor pessimistic but realistic in that it preserves the universal human condition without moralising or philosophising the book aims to make a fresh departure in larkin criticism and mark a new era in larkin studies this volume will be of interest to students and researchers of modernism twentieth century literature poetry language and literature
