the nineteenth century witnessed an upsurge of interest in the region across europe and north america in media ranging from literary fiction to the illustrated periodical and from visual arts to architecture this rise of regionalism has often been linked to nationalism and nation building however depictions of the region circulated across borders or interacted with transnational cultural repertoires of the local these often overlooked transnational aspects are the focus of this volume which considers cultural representations of the region during the long nineteenth century in its variety of dimensions across all expressive media this collection consistently draws out the border crossing dynamics through which the very perception of regions is generated and maintained contributions by established and emerging scholars all rise to the challenge of contextualizing representations of specific regions in transnational networks of exchange the volume is resolutely interdisciplinary encompassing various literary genres as well as music visual arts and world fairs it will ensure that the region is in the best possible sense all over the place rapha<sup>l</sup> ingelbien professor of english literature at ku leuven this volume is an attempt to discuss the ways in which themes of authority and gender can be traced in the writing of chronicles and chronicle like writings from the early middle ages to the renaissance with major contributions by fourteen authors each of them specialists in the field this study spans full across the compass of medieval and early modern europe from england and scandinavia to byzantium and the crusader kingdoms embraces a variety of media and methods and touches evidence from diverse branches of learning such as language and literature history and art to name just a few this is an important collection which will be of the highest utility for students and scholars of language literature and history for many years to come this book is the result of a master s thesis in modern literature classics option written at the university of rennes 2 defended in 2012 while it can borrow from history through a certain number of historical archives this research work borrows more from legend and literary sources that made it possible to free the second duke of normandy a viking and son of the viking rollo founder of normandy in 911 from anonymity indeed this academic work is the first to deal with a character that is not sufficiently known sometimes confused with a homonym but of fundamental importance the choice of the title the estory of william longsword can be explained by the following considerations it is a question of history but signifying by this choice that it will be a question of entering into this history of preserving as much as possible its medieval character its medieval meaning and therefore not only of being the modern observer of a timeless sequence it will not be history but a story that is told in 7 chapters all the dimensions inherent to such publications will be revealed including the sources the gaps between the story and the texts the legendary dimension of the character his human dimension the mysteries to be discovered
