this book describes and evaluates the usefulness of a recently developed lexicographical hybrid the encyclopedic learner's dictionary. First, the dictionary is analysed from a typological perspective. Two encyclopedic learners' dictionaries are dissected and compared and a checklist of design features is drawn up. A survey of previous user-based studies is then provided, followed by a description of the questionnaire-based methodology used in this user-centred investigation. Next, a critical analysis of each design feature is provided. Finally, the implications of this research for the future production of dictionaries are presented as a checklist of recommendations.

This volume provides concise, authoritative accounts of the approaches and methodologies of modern lexicography and of the aims and qualities of its end products, leading scholars and professional lexicographers from all over the world and representing all the main traditions and perspectives. It assesses the state of the art in every aspect of research and practice. The book is divided into four parts reflecting the main types of lexicography. Part I looks at synchronic dictionaries: those for the general public, monolingual dictionaries for second language learners, and bilingual dictionaries. Parts II and III are devoted to the distinctive methodologies and concerns of historical dictionaries and specialist dictionaries respectively. While chapters in Part IV examine specific topics such as description and prescription, the representation of pronunciation and the practicalities of dictionary production, the book ends with a chronology of major events in the history of lexicography. It will be a valuable resource for students, scholars and practitioners in the field.

This book is concerned with bilingual thematic dictionaries (BTDs). The three chief aims of the research project are: 1. to identify the characteristic features of the bilingual thematic dictionary; 2. to gauge its usefulness; and 3. to make suggestions as to how it could be improved. Various approaches are adopted in order to reveal the nature of the BTD. The typological approach considers the lexicographic genres: bilingual thematic and pedagogical, which have been combined to create this hybrid reference work. Particular attention is paid to the BTD's immediate forerunner and closest lexicographic relative, the monolingual thematic learner's dictionary. Detailed textual analyses of contemporary thematic dictionaries identify the characteristic features of the macrostructure, microstructure and other components from a structural perspective in order to evaluate the usefulness of the BTD. Features identified in the textual analyses are supplemented by three pieces of user research involving a questionnaire to elicit learners' opinions, a test on the effectiveness of the access structure and an experiment to discover how a learner uses a btd
