part of a collection of units within a year long primary writing curriculum anderson offers smart ready to use ideas for assessment clearly during the time in which calkins original ideas have spread like wildlife her focus has not been on articulating and defending those ideas but on developing and rethinking them respecting and responding to the questions that have arisen as thousands of teachers establish writing workshops in their classrooms and drawing upon the latest knowledge in the field and her own intimate understanding of classroom life Calkins has rethought every line and every facet of her original text this collection of articles is a sociolinguistic response to the recent explosion of scholarly interest in issues of identity identity is central to all human beings as we are all concerned with how to conceive of ourselves present ourselves and comprehend our relationships with others the book tackles the problem of how personal identity is made visible and intelligible to others through language and how this may be constrained part one emblematic identities focuses on the construction of self definitions based on various forms of group identities including national and ethnic ones part two multicultural identities looks at negotiation of identities in multicultural contexts involving relations of power drawing on examples from Europe and the Americas finally part three emergent identities collects empirical studies based on a close reading of texts in which identities are being articulated and negotiated
