the art of connection narrates the individual stories of artisans and traders of kenyan arts and crafts as they overcome the loss of physical access to roadside market space by turning to new digital technologies to make their businesses more mobile and integrated into the global economy bringing together the studies of globalization development art and communication the book illuminates the lived experiences of informal economies and shows how traders and small enterprises balance new risks with the mobility afforded by digital technologies an array of ethnic and generational politics have led to market burnings and witchcraft accusations as kenya s crafts industry struggles to adapt to its new connection to the global economy to mediate the resulting crisis of trust the fair trade sticker and other ngo aesthetics continue to successfully represent a transparent ethical and trusting relationship between buyer and producer dillon mahoney shows that by balancing revelation and obfuscation what is revealed and what is not kenyan art traders make their own roles as intermediaries and the exploitative realities of the global economy invisible

the book analyses from a comparative perspective the exploration of territories the histories of their inhabitants and local natural environments during the long eighteenth century the eleven chapters look at european science at home and abroad as well as at global scientific practices and the involvement of a great variety of local actors in the processes of mapping and recording dealing with landlocked territories with no colonies like switzerland and places embedded in colonial networks the book reveals multifarious entanglements connecting these territories contributors are sarah baumgartner simona boscani leoni stefanie gänger meike knittel francesco luzzini jon mathieu barbara orland irina podgorny chetan singh and martin stuber this book combines two classic topics in social anthropology in a new synthesis the study of witchcraft and sorcery and the study of rumors and gossip first it shows how rumor and gossip are invariably important as catalysts for accusations of witchcraft and sorcery second it demonstrates the role of rumor and gossip in the genesis of social and political violence as in the case of both peasant rebellions and witch hunts examples supporting the argument are drawn from africa europe india papua new
