the mystic tradition in christian times is preserved apart from all questions and traces of instituted mysteries in the literature of christian mystical theology it is a large and exceedingly scattered literature some of its most important texts are available in no modern language they stand very seriously in need of codification and if i may be so frank even of re expression but if for other reasons they are in their entirety a study which must be left to the expert there is no person now living in europe who has not close at his hands the specific simple isolated texts much too numerous to name which are sufficient to give some general idea of the scope and aims of the tradition if i were asked to define the literature shortly and comprehensively as a whole i should call it the texts of the way the truth and the life in respect of the mystic term it is not only full but exhaustive as to the way which is that of the inward world recollection meditation contemplation the renunciation of all that is lower in the quest of all that is higher but perhaps the most catholic word of all would be centralisation it is very full also on the fundamental truth out of which it arises that a way does exist and that the way is open this historic book may have numerous typos and missing text purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher not indexed not illustrated 1899 edition excerpt chapter iii how diana made the stars and the rain diana was the first created before all creation in her were all things out of herself the first darkness she divided herself into darkness and light she was divided lucifer her brother and son herself and her other half was the light and when diana saw that the light was so beautiful the light which was her other half her brother lucifer she yearned for it with exceeding great desire wishing to receive the light again into her darkness to swallow it up in rapture in delight she trembled with desire this desire was the dawn but lucifer the light fled from her and would not yield to her wishes he was the light which flies into the most distant parts of heaven the mouse which flies before the cat then diana went to the fathers of the beginning to the mothers the spirits who were before the first spirit and lamented unto them that she could not prevail with lucifer and they praised her for her courage they told her that to rise she must fall to become the chief of goddesses she must become a mortal and in the ages in the course of time when the world was made diana went on earth as did lucifer who had fallen and diana taught magic and sorcery whence came witches and fairies and goblins all that is like man yet not mortal and it came thus that diana took the form of a cat her brother had a cat whom he loved beyond all creatures and it slept every night on his bed a cat beautiful beyond all other creatures a fairy he did not know it diana prevailed with the cat to change forms with her so she lay with her brother and in the darkness assumed her own form and so by lucifer became the mother of aradia but when in the morning he found that he lay aradia or the gospel of the witches is a book composed by the american folklorist charles leland originally published in 1899 it contains what he believed was the religious text of a group of pagan witches in tuscany italy which documented their beliefs and rituals many historians and folklorists have disputed the existence of such a group in the 20th century the book was very influential in the development of the neopagan religion of wicca the text is a composite of leland s translation into english of an original italian manuscript the vangelo gospel and leland s other research on italian folklore and traditions leland reported receiving the manuscript from his primary informant on italian witchcraft beliefs a woman leland referred to as maddalena leland had been informed of the vangelo s existence in 1886 but he did not receive a copy until 1897 its fifteen chapters portray the origins beliefs rituals and spells of an italian pagan witchcraft tradition leland s work remained obscure until the 1950s when other theories about and claims of pagan witchcraft survivals began to be widely discussed aradia began to be examined within the wider context of such claims scholars are divided with some dismissing leland s assertion regarding the origins of the manuscript and others arguing for its authenticity as a unique documentation of folk beliefs along with increased scholarly attention aradia came to play a special role in the history of gardnerian wicca and its offshoots being used as evidence that pagan witchcraft survivals existed in europe and because a passage from the book s first chapter was used as a part of the religion s liturgy
