when britain left the european union in january 2021 it set out on a new journey shorn of empire and now the eu too britain s economy is as national as it has ever been a decade or so since globalisation seemed inevitable this is a remarkable reversal how did this happen britain alone argues that this nationalisation aligning the boundaries of the state with its national peoples emerged from the 2008 global financial crisis the book analyses how austerity and scarcity intensified and created new conflicts over who gets what this extends to struggle over what the british nation is for who it represents and who it values drawing on a range of cultural economic and political themes immigration and the hostile environment nostalgia and second world war mythology race and the left behind the clap for carers and furloughing as well as superscrimpers and stand up comedy the book traces the complex nationalist path britain took after the crash demonstrating how we cannot explain nationalism without reference to the economy and vice versa in analysing the thread that ties the fallout of the crash and austerity through brexit and to the shape of lockdown politics britain alone provides an incisive and original history of the last decade of britain and its relationship to the global economy investigating the interplay between space time and identity construction this book brings to focus how spatiality and temporality have been largely overlooked in the study and theorisation of identity construction offering gloria anzaldúa's concept of conocimiento as a theoretical tool for analysing identity construction the book investigates how doctoral students hold varying assumptions about their intellectual identity where the doctoral process enables them to deconstruct and reconstruct these identities chapters examine the implications for scholars who find themselves in the in between space of transitional identities advocating the need for innovative identity theorisation to strike a balance in the shifting dynamics between different presentations of identity and belief systems bringing together lefebvre's theorisation of the relationship between space and the body in rhythmanalysis and anzaldúa's theorisation of the relationship between the body and identity construction the book offers a transdisciplinary reading of space body and identity providing a space to continue and progress the foregrounding of narratives from marginalised voices and groups in higher education the book will be of interest to scholars researchers and academics in the fields of sociology of education multicultural education higher education and philosophy of education
