world's fair where he introduced his products after personal setbacks including his wife's death and a divorce. Max's fascination with the film industry prompted a move to Los Angeles where he innovated makeup suitable for film, creating the flexible greasepaint and later pancake makeup for technicolor films. Max Factor's legacy continued through his children, particularly Max Factor Jr. who furthered the company's success in television makeup and international expansion. The Max Factor Beauty Museum in Hollywood preserves his contributions to the beauty industry while his great grandsons carry on the family tradition in cosmetics. Max Factor's story is a testament to his impact on Hollywood glamour and the global cosmetics market.

This popular volume on the culture of hair through human history and around the globe has been updated and revised to include even more entries and current information. How we style our hair has the ability to shape the way others perceive us. For example, in 2017 the singer Macklemore denounced his hipster undercut hairstyle, a style that is associated with Hitler youth and alt-right men, and in 2015 actress Rose McGowan shaved her head in order to take a stance against the traditional Hollywood sex symbol stereotype. This volume examines how hair or lack thereof can be an important symbol of gender, class, and culture around the world, and through history, hairstyles have come to represent cultural heritage and memory, and even political leanings, social beliefs, and identity. This second edition builds upon the original volume, updating all entries that have evolved over the last decade, such as by discussing hipster culture in the entries on beards and mustaches, and recent medical breakthroughs in hair loss. New entries have been added that look at specific world regions, hair coverings, political symbolism behind certain styles, and other topics.

This book provides an industrial history that examines how and why makeup and hairdressing evolved as crafts in the studio era. Readers will never again watch Hollywood films without thinking about the roles of makeup and hairdressing in creating not just fictional characters but stars as emblems of an idealized and undeniably mesmerizing visual perfection.

The cinema isn't a slice of life; it's a slice of cake. Alfred Hitchcock: if you make a popular movie, you start to think, 'Where have I failed?' Woody Allen: a film is the world in an hour and a half. Jean-Luc Godard: I think you have to be slightly psychopathic to make movies. David Cronenberg: this compendium contains more than 3,400 quotations from filmmakers and critics discussing their craft. About 1,850 film people are included: Bunuel, Capra, Chaplin, Disney, Fellini, Fitzgerald, Griffith, Kael, Kurasawa, Pathe, Sarris, Schwarzenegger, Spielberg, Waters, and Welles, among them. The quotations are arranged under 31 topics such as acting, animation, audience, budget, casting, critics, costume design, directing, locations, reviews, screenwriting, special effects, and stardom. Indexing by filmmakers or critics, by film titles, and by narrow subjects provides a rich array of points of access.

Costume makeup and hair reveals how these three crafts have continually adapted to new conditions, making the transitions from stage to screen, from monochrome to colour, and from analog to digital. It considers them in relation to a wide range of film genres, from sci-fi spectacles to period dramas, as
