mourning modernism postmodernism illuminates the emergence of a fundamentally new way of thinking and writing about loss in the twentieth century novel one that spurns consolation and the conventional aim of closure inaugurated in the modernist novel the rejection of consolation manages to promote a politically progressive politics of mourning the modernist novel established as well the terms of a new mourning practice terms whose democratizing aims would be challenged in the late modernist period but ultimately reanimated and reworked by postmodern writers in challenging the familiar view of modernist aesthetics as removed from social concerns and of postmodernist aesthetics as a self reflexive language game incapable of representing affirmative content mourning modernism postmodernism demonstrates how novelists of some of the most experimental fiction of the century engage the open ended aspects of loss to imagine new forms of identity and social change this book treats postmodernism in its own terms regarding it as a phenomenon which both represents a contemporary moment and also looks toward its own transcendence passing away disappearance the book's critical range extends from the gothic through to the most recent harbingers of modernity and describes a trajectory that will take account of recent fiction poetry and point readers to the development that will textualize into the 21st century piranesi builds a shopping mall giotto supervises a training analysis milton directs a film in postmodernism across the ages the traditional notion of change in history the linear analogy of human development comes in for its own share of interpretation of reading and hence doubles back on itself this provocative collection of essays examines the way in which the concept of postmodernism has forced a rethinking of the intersection of time and text appropriately these essays themselves reach across the ages considering authors ranging from alexander the great to chaucer and milton to ford madox ford and umberto eco the volume concludes with a series of four dissenting afterwords that assess the import of these postmodern readings on some of the major interpretive projects of our day feminism marxism humanism and deconstruction and gay studies book jacket title summary field provided by blackwell north america inc all rights reserved setting out to exemplify a new approach to social theory one forged in the course of a critical dialogue between postmodernism and marxism this book departs from classical marxist thought by directly engaging with issues in social and political theory the book offers a way forward for a new and revitalised marxist tradition the book does not fit within any single disciplinary boundary but challenges the limits imposed by conventional boundaries the author breaks with the usual postmodernism versus marxism syndrome and defies that brand of postmodernism that pronounces the death of social theory through a deconstructive rethinking of the central concepts of production law and class he attempts to demonstrate ways in which a transformed marxism can take on board and benefit from postmodernism and deconstruction without lapsing into post marxism
