metaphysics and hermeneutics in the medieval platonic tradition consists of twelve essays originally published between 2006 and 2015 dealing with main trends and specific figures within the medieval platonic tradition three essays provide general surveys of the transmission of late ancient thought to the middle ages with emphasis on the ancient authors the themes and their medieval readers respectively the remaining essays deal especially with certain major figures in the platonic tradition including pseudo dionysius the areopagite iohannes scottus eriugena and nicholas of cusa the principal conceptual aim of the collection is to establish the primacy of hermeneutics within the philosophical program developed by these authors in other words to argue that their philosophical activity substantially albeit not exclusively consists of the reading and evaluation of authoritative texts the essays also argue that the role of hermeneutics varies in the course of the tradition between being a means towards the development of metaphysical theory and being an integral component of metaphysics itself in addition such changes in the status and application of hermeneutics to metaphysics are shown to be accompanied by a shift from emphasizing the connection between logic and philosophy to emphasizing that between rhetoric and philosophy the collection of essays fills in a lacuna in the history of philosophy in general between the fifth and the fifteenth centuries it also initiates a dialogue between the metaphysical hermeneutics of medieval platonism and certain modern theories of hermeneutics structuralism and deconstruction the book will be of special interest to students of the classical tradition in western thought and more generally to students of medieval philosophy theology history and literature cs1094
