modern east asia details the history of the region while recognizing the intellectual religious artistic economic and scientific contributions east asians have made to the contemporary world the three national narratives of china japan and korea are told separately within each chapter and the text emphasizes connections among them as well as the unique evolution of each society allowing readers to experience the individual countries histories as well as the region s history as a whole the text takes into consideration the radical changes in the field of history in the past 40 years as the authors have incorporated scholarship in areas such as gender studies social history and minority histories while reading social economic and personal histories students will uncover the evolution of family structures peripheral and outcast communities the sociopolitical power of language and literature the rise of nationalism and regional trading networks attention is also paid to environmental and diplomatic themes

the aim of this book is to examine and compare the integration process in both europe and asia and to draw some possible lessons for east asia from the european experience which culminated with the establishment of the economic and monetary union the book embraces the political dimension of integration peace and security economic trade and monetary aspects and cultural aspects written by well known experts in the field of integration this book represents one of the first attempts at comparing europe and asia in the process of integration by incorporating the latest developments in the field the main theme of the book integration in asia from a comparative perspective has been relatively unexplored as most experts in the field of integration are also area experts i.e. european integration experts or asian experts the contributors to the book provide a distinctive perspective based upon their understanding of integration political economic and socio cultural across various regions of the world this volume is intended to be the most comprehensive textbook on economic integration in east asia it introduces the reader to various issues related to the topic such as institutional building of ftas production networks and the location choice of mnes r d and innovation infrastructure development and transport costs international migration and service trade monetary integration regional disparity and poverty it also deals with the critical energy environmental and agricultural concerns each chapter contains ample data and rigorous analyses complemented by illustrative box articles covering a wide range of aspects surrounding economic integration in east asia this well researched text will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students of development studies regional economics and asian studies it will be of particular value to those on courses concerned with economic and regional integration papers presented at a workshop held by the indian council for research on international economic relations new delhi in march 2006

this edited book reflects the yin yang of east asia the analogy of co existing hot and cold trends in that region to concentrate only on geopolitical competition and regional hot spots will exaggerate if not misrepresent east asia as a hobbesian world nevertheless geopolitical competition cannot be ignored because a failure of the balance of power and deterrence between china and the united states and its allies will destabilise the region there are four vectors in the geopolitics of east asia china rising the united states rebalancing to this region japan normalising as a nation state and asean emerging as a regional community the interplay of these four vectors will set the trajectory of geopolitics in east asia another focus of this volume is on the politics of identity the distinctiveness character and flavour of a group real or imagined can be cool cool as in being charming and appealing transcends national boundaries plurality and diversity of identities and cultures in east asia can be a celebration of life and humanity however xenophobic identities often based on exclusive race language religion and hegemony and its subsequent politicisation can rend a nation apart indeed the affirmation of one s identity may be at the expense or denial of the identity of the other similarly the assertion and the intricacy of identity and nationalism in east asia can also be problematic however a person or group can have multiple and different scales of identities indeed identities can be fluid and situational to avoid a repeat of those nationalist nightmares a common european dream emerged after wwii which has since developed into some essential doctrines of european integration this dream inspired institutionalist context has framed intergovernmental bargaining sectoral spillovers and transnational cooperation in european integration the powerful european dream has even encouraged europeans toward closer integration though they were quite often very reluctant to go further this dream driven approach and reluctant runner s model have highlighted some fundamental realities of european integration extremely inspiring for the future of the eu and the ongoing asian regionalism this book consists of three parts and thirteen chapters it aims to explain european integration the eu s role in global governance and the eu s impact upon asian regionalism with the help of the european dream approach and reluctant runners model trump s unilateralism the rising tensions between the us and prc and the covid 19 pandemic may be a turning point for world politics both globalization and global governance have consequently slowed down giving place to regionalism and inter regionalism this book hopes to contribute to the rising debate over european integration asian regionalism and eu asian inter regionalism this book reviews and analyses east asian economic integration by looking at china asean economic relations and the china asean free trade area cafta the book explores the economic relations between china and asean after the cold war ended investigates china s motives to establish the cafta china asean free trade area and evaluates economic integration in east asia in which both china and asean hold key roles much of the research is based upon interviews which the author conducted with key policy makers in china after providing a theoretical framework and discussing methodology the author provides a background on economic cooperation between china and asean from the 1980 s onwards china s role in trade and investment cooperation before and after 2001 is also analyzed as are china s shifting motives for cooperating with asean the author also looks at the features and the future for east asian economic integration much of the research is based on chinese language sources which are not usually referred to in western works in this field both international trade and investment by east asian countries have become significantly regionalized to support this development further efforts for regional integration have flourished in the forms of bilateral and regional free trade agreements and the asean 3 and east asia summit processes among many others this book is a compilation of papers and discussions originally presented at the international symposium held during the recent global financial crisis the symposium aimed to shed light not only on the usual economic aspect but also on other aspects of the multidimensional phenomenon called regional integration. Thus in this volume the authors explore the relationship between the U.S. influence and East Asian regionalism, the characteristics of East Asian integration and the politics of inclusion/exclusion in the integration process. In addition, they point out some missing links in integration efforts such as cooperation in the areas of logistics, finance, trade in services, infrastructure, and human resource movement. Since the global financial crisis did not deter integration efforts, rather it has encouraged them, this book serves as a guide for future East Asian integration in terms of what to expect and what is to be done.

This work looks at events which have had fundamental implications for the geopolitical relations in and with the Asia-Pacific region. It covers issues such as regional definition, the emergence of regional integration, the role of Japan, China, Russia, and India, and security and trade.
