this book offers a provocative analysis of the neuroscience of morality written by three leading scholars of science medicine and bioethics it critiques contemporary neuroscientific claims about individual morality and notions of good and evil winner of a 2021 prize from the expanded reason institute it connects moral philosophy to neoliberal economics and successfully challenges the idea that we can locate morality in the brain instead of discovering the source of morality in the brain as they claim to do the popularizers of contemporary neuroscience are shown to participate in an understanding of human behavior that serves the vested interests of contemporary political economy providing evidence that the history of claims about morality and brain function reach back 400 years the authors locate its genesis in the beginnings of modern philosophy science and economics they further map this trajectory through the economic and moral theories of francis bacon david hume jeremy bentham john stuart mill and the chicago school of economics to uncover a pervasive colonial anthropology at play in the neuroscience of morality today the book concludes with a call for a humbler and more constrained neuroscience informed by a more robust human anthropology that embraces the nobility beauty frailties and flaws in being human an incisive examination into the pairing of psychology and situation that creates despotic leaders from the author of murderous minds not everyone can become a tyrant it requires a particular confluence of events to gain absolute control over entire nations first you must be born with the potential to develop brutal personality traits often this is a combination of narcissism psychopathy machiavellianism paranoia and an extraordinary ambition to achieve control over others second your dangerous personality must be developed and strengthened during childhood you might suffer physical and or psychological abuse finally you must come of age when the political system of your country is unstable together these events establish a basis to rise to power one that stalin hitler mao zedong saddam hussein and muammar qaddafi all used to gain life and death control over their countrymen and women it is how the leaders of the islamic state hoped to gain such power though these men lived in different times and places and came from vastly different backgrounds many of them felt respect for each other they often seemed to recognize their shared dark personality traits and viewed them as strengths only in rare cases did they show signs of mental disorders getting inside the heads of foreign leaders and terrorists is one way governments try to understand predict and influence their actions psychological profiles can help us understand the urges of tyrants to dominate subjugate torture and slaughter tyrannical minds reveals how recognizing their psychological traits can provide insight into the motivations and actions of dangerous leaders potentially allow to us predict their behavior and even how to stop them as strongmen and authoritarian leaders around the world increase in number understanding the most extreme examples of tyrannical behavior should serve as a warning to anyone indifferent to the threats posed by political extremism
