for more than 250 years english children's literature has transmitted values to the next generation the stories convey to children what they should identify with and aspire to even as notions of goodness change over time through reading children absorb an ethos of englishness that grounds personal identity and underpins national consciousness such authors as lewis carroll j r r tolkien and j k rowling have entertained motivated confronted social wrongs and transmitted cultural mores in their works functions previously associated with folklore their stories form a new folklore tradition that provides social glue and supports a love of england and english values in children's literature and british identity imagining a people and a nation rebecca knuth follows the development of the genre focusing on how stories inspire children to adhere to the morals of society this book examines how this tradition came to fruition exploring the works of several authors including robert baden powell robert ballantyne evaluating the connection between children's literature and the dissemination and formation of identity this book will appeal to both general readers and academics who are interested in librarianship english culture and children's literature more than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of the cambridge bibliography of english literature the design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition the task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries
