in this ebook you will find all information about shopping malls in the usa united states of america the mall shopping center is an interesting place it is of course not just a place to go shopping but it has become a multi purpose place normally people used to go shopping in downtown areas of cities and go there for other activities as well but they now go to the mall it has become a fixture of modern life one of those things that we can t imagine doing without for a relatively modern development the mall shopping center has been a successful idea that has made fortunes for developers investors and retailers what it has done for the average person is another story but its importance in everyday life is huge and the influence of the mall is everywhere it seems like the primary function of a mall these days is a social space a place for people of all ages to meet up eat talk and generally hang out together for young people it s the only place to get together and socialize for others the shopping center is a place to walk mall walking is an established practice for older folks and meet friends but they have other social spaces like the church the community center and so on but for the young crowd it s the mall or stay at home this essay sheds light on what is the closure of shopping malls phenomenon explicates what caused the closure of shopping malls phenomenon and delineates the problems with the closure of shopping malls the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is a phenomenon that is characterized by the closure of an exorbitant amount of shopping malls the closure of shopping malls phenomenon not only undermines the growth potential of the shopping mall management industry but also undermines the growth potential of the retail industry the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is a phenomenon that has befallen upon customers amid the 21st century certain customers are distraught that there are a copious amount of shopping malls that they can no longer visit due to the closure of an exorbitant amount of shopping malls amid the 21st century the closure of an exorbitant amount of shopping malls amid the 21st century has winnowed down the amount of shopping malls that customers can visit amid the 21st century furthermore the closure of an exorbitant amount of shopping malls amid the 21st century has deterred certain customers to visit shopping malls in contexts in which customers are no longer within a short driving distance to an opened shopping mall due to the closure of an exorbitant amount of shopping malls amid the 21st century the closure of shopping malls phenomenon has elicited a reduction in the need for personnel in the shopping mall management industry a reduction in the need for personnel in the shopping mall management industry has precipitated a reduction in the size of the shopping mall management industry workforce the closure of shopping malls phenomenon has undermined the growth potential of the size of the shopping mall management industry workforce the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is a phenomenon that affects multiple cohorts some of the cohorts that are affected by the closure of shopping malls phenomenon encompass retailers service providers customers and shopping mall owners the closure of shopping malls can culminate in the square footage in closed shopping malls becoming unused by retailers and service providers furthermore the closure of shopping malls can also culminate in closed shopping malls becoming inaccessible to customers moreover the closure of shopping malls can also culminate in closed shopping malls no longer being fully maintained by shopping mall owners closed shopping malls are typically partially maintained by shopping mall owners the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is a phenomenon that is not limited to a single geographical region this is because the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is a phenomenon that has pervaded shopping malls in disparate geographical regions the closure of shopping malls phenomenon has rendered shopping sessions at retail stores to be at a high probability to be fraught with the inconvenience of most of the retail stores that a customer desires to visit not being within a close vicinity to one another the inconvenience of most of the retail stores that a customer desires to visit not being within a close vicinity to one another can deter customers to visit retail stores in contexts in which they have the option to purchase products from e commerce retailers and e commerce sellers the causes of the closure of shopping malls phenomenon are multitudinous one cause behind the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is attributable to shopping mall owners not being able to lease out enough retail spaces in their shopping malls to companies to be able to cover their shopping mall operating costs if a shopping mall has a low occupancy rate of commercial tenants then it is more cumbersome for shopping mall owners to generate enough revenue to be able to cover their shopping mall operating costs another cause behind the closure of shopping malls phenomenon is attributable to companies that lease out retail spaces in shopping malls faltering in meeting their sales forecasts if companies that lease out retail spaces in shopping malls falter in meeting their sales forecasts then shopping mall owners that receive a percentage of their sales revenue will receive less revenue from their commercial tenants than they otherwise would have received if their commercial tenants met or exceeded their sales forecasts china s rise as an economic superpower has been inescapable statistical hyperbole has been accompanied by a plethora of highly publicized architectural forms that brand the regeneration of its increasingly globalized urban centres despite the sizeable body of literature that has accompanied china s modernization the essence and trajectory of its contemporary cityscape remains difficult to grasp this volume addresses a less explored aspect of china s urban rejuvenation the prominence of the shopping mall as a keystone of its public spaces here the presence of the built form most representative of western capitalism s excess is one that makes explicit the tensions between china s communist state and its ascent within the free market this book examines how these interrelationships are manifested in the culturally hybrid built form of the shopping mall and its role in contesting the public space of the modern chinese city by viewing these interrelationships as collisions of global and local narratives a more nuanced understanding of the shopping mall typology is explored much architectural criticism has failed to address the levels of meaning implicit within the shopping mall yet it is a building type whose public popularity has guaranteed its endurance consequently if architecture is to remain a relevant social art a more holistic understanding of this phenomenon will be indispensable to the process of adapting to globalizing forces this examination of chinese shopping malls offers a timely and relevant case study of what is happening in all our cities today
