by analysing the irish development strategy this book questions its much portrayed success the republic of ireland has followed an export oriented development path relying on foreign direct investment inflows as the main development agent however this chosen path of development has led to growing industrial social and developmental polarisations despite the indisputable impressive overall growth figures growth is primarily driven by the investing multinationals and the inequality of earnings have been exacerbated thus questioning the irish growth model s success canada and germany are among the largest contributors to the international mission in afghanistan with troops in different parts of the country fulfilling different roles canada s higher ratio of combat to development work is reflected in a higher rate of casualties canadians have sometimes joined in criticisms of germany and other european allies for their unwillingness to take on riskier military tasks in afghanistan s southern and eastern provinces some germans in turn have chided canada for stressing war fighting at the expense of approaches more centred on development this canadian german dialogue reflects a larger debate both operational and existential within nato concerning afghanistan and the future of the alliance this collection of essays by leading german and canadian experts assesses the present state and future prospects of the afghanistan mission both to advance the dialogue and to suggest better approaches to the policy questions that continue to confront the alliance contributors include michael brzoska institute for peace research and security policy mike capstick canadian forces ret university of calgary mihai carp nato andrea charron royal military college rainer glassner university of duisburg essen david haglund queen s university roland kaestner leadership academy of the german armed forces florian kühn helmut schmidt university of the german armed forces janet kursawe german institute of global and area studies david law centre for democratic control of armed forces geneva citha maass german institute for international and security affairs kim nossal queen s university lara olsen university of calgary conrad schetter university of bonn christian reuter der stern and christian wagner german institute for international and security affairs kabbalistic manuscripts and textual theory uncovers the unstated assumptions and expectations of scribes and scholars who fashioned editions from manuscripts of jewish mystical literature this study offers a theory of kabbalistic textuality in which the material book the printed page no less than handwritten manuscripts serves as the site for textual dialogue between jewish mystics of different periods and locations the refashioning of the text through the process of reading and commenting that takes place on the page in the margins and between the lines blurs the boundaries between the traditionally defined roles of author reader commentator and editor this study shows that kabbalists and academic editors reinvented the text in their own image as part of a fluid textual process that was nothing short of transformative this book is certainly monumental offering in its seven hundred pages a wealth of documentation and distilled argument that manages to be both comprehensive in its materials and transparent in its critical insights it is rare indeed that a work of such formidable scholarship can actually be a pleasure to read and convincing in its elucidation of what are often extremely complex documentary circumstances and editorial traditions from the foreword by david greetham relations between the united states and south africa or the parts of the world these nations now occupy go nearly as far back as the very beginning of their inception as permanent european colonial intrusions this book is a critical overview of these relations from the late seventeenth century to the present unprecedented in its scope and supported by substantive and detailed notes together with an extensive bibliography chronology glossary and appendices the book distinguishes itself from extant works in a number of other ways set against the backdrop of a wider interdisciplinary exploration of both ideational and structural issues of historical context it not only gives attention to the importance of contributions from nonofficial actors in shaping official relations but also considers the impact of the geo political location of south africa within southern africa where the presence of other nations particularly angola mozambique namibia and zimbabwe looms large methodologically written from the perspectives of both traditional narrative history and khaldunian interpretive historical analysis the book consequently sits at the interdisciplinary interstice of political economy and sociology where the aim is to advance our understanding of the braudelien interconnectedness of world history as an important diachronic determinant of the diplomacy of foreign relations written for both scholars and policy analysts this book s examination of the agency of the marginalized should also be of interest to activists and the reading public this eclac annual report sets out and analyses the main foreign direct investment fdi trends in the countries of latin america and the caribbean in the region fdi inflows were up by 13.2 year on year for the first time in five years at us 184.287 billion this performance is explained by higher flows into just a few countries however mainly brazil and mexico moreover it does not reflect equity investment but higher inflows in the form of intercompany loans and to a lesser extent reinvestment of earnings manufactures and services were the sectors receiving most equity although there was a slight rise in investment in natural resource sectors compared with 2018
