the bible tells us christians are new creations in the world but no longer of the world doug tweed s latest book christ in us is the hope of glory challenges us to more fully understand and embrace what these scriptural revelations mean tweed s previous book be with jesus focused on individual revival awakening and maturity while connecting that process to the corporate identity and purpose of the body of christ this new book focuses on the corporate identity and purpose of the body of christ while connecting those truths to the individual christian life in the tradition of a w tozer and oswald chambers tweed uses more than 500 scripture citations to establish how two truths shape our identity and purpose as christians through the holy spirit god lives in you and as a member of the body of christ you are part of the christ now on earth in a time of increasing darkness around the world christ in us is the hope of glory declares to the church that the hope of glory is christ in us it is time to rise and shine
