case for a non reductionist non materialist account of the soul in a culture in which science is believed to hold the answers to every question spiritual realities like the soul are often ignored or ridiculed we are told that neuroscience holds the key to explaining every aspect of human behavior yet christian philosopher j p moreland argues that scripture sound philosophical reasoning and everyday experience all point to the reality of an immaterial soul countering the arguments of both naturalists and christian scholars who embrace a material only view of humanity moreland demonstrates why it is both biblical and reasonable to believe humans are essentially spiritual beings he also describes the various components of the soul and how christians can nurture their souls as disciples of christ moreland shows that neuroscience and the soul are not competing explanations of human activity but that both coexist and influence one another throughout the ages humanity has sought to make sense of its existence beyond dogma and doctrine via the ageless wisdom individuals such as hermes the buddha and jesus have reminded humanity of their true nature their soul these teachers showed that we all come from a divine realm a realm much grander than that which we have created here on earth in the current age humanity is suffering from the lovelessness and lack of meaning that arises when we disconnect from divinity this book is a guide to the daily incremental movements we can bring into our lives as we make our way back to divinity in grounded everyday language cynthia makes the ageless wisdom accessible to people from all walks of life explains the creation of souls their journeys through different life forms on earth and as humans their preparation through meditation to rejoin their creator in eternity there is persuasive evidence from near death and out of body experiences that the physical brain is merely the instrument through which our soul consciousness expresses itself in the physical world there is equally persuasive evidence from children and adults who spontaneously remember past lives and from past life and interlife regression that we are individual souls who reincarnate to experience and grow a careful analysis of skeptics arguments in each of these areas of research proves in most cases just how reductionist and in fact illogical they are nevertheless not all the evidence put forward by believers stands up and careful discrimination is required such a balanced and in depth critique of both sides of the argument is rare if not unique equally unique is the accompanying collation and comparison of the interlife regression research of a number of pioneering psychologists but what of the idea that we are all one which is the universal message of all transcendental experiences can it be squared with the idea of the individual reincarnating soul or is this merely an illusion in itself perhaps the answer lies in a theory of total elegance and simplicity that of the holographic soul

this non religious book reveals and describes the timeless program of the soul from its first incarnation on earth as animal man it then traces the many stages of personality development leading to the third and final phase wherein the individual treads the path of spiritual return back to their source and the ultimate achievement of their magnificent destiny this history reveals that when the soul or self was first formed it was in a dormant seed like condition its inherent faculties were all potential but not yet actual and its awareness was in a vague dim dreamy state mankind therefore was originally little more than an animal with a few dimly sensed but higher feelings during repeated cycles of incarnations on earth and being planted in the school of material life the impacts of the environment beating against consciousness gradually evoked the awareness of the soul and the struggle to survive in a difficult and often hostile environment so its powers and capacities began to unfold as the soul s awareness of its own god like nature awakens so it comes increasingly into conflict with its savage instinct driven animal man scaffolding that was initially necessary for its survival on the earth as the seed like self increasingly penetrates consciousness and develops its abilities and creativity so people evolve out of the animal man stage in which they are just one of a herd and become more individual and therefore different this creates the conflict of personality development and this is the evolutionary phase in which mankind is now engaged this chronicle of the fundamental stages of the plan and purpose of the soul then goes on to describe the third phase of treading the steep and narrow path of self knowledge this finally leads to conscious union with the fully grown and unfolded soul and culminates in the sublime attainment of self realisation and cosmic or god consciousness which is the ultimate purpose of human life on earth rational spirituality surely this is a contradiction in terms how can spirituality be rational when it relies on faith and revelation the simple answer is it does not have to any more modern science tells us there is far more to the universe than the physical world we all perceive and the explanation that most closely fits the facts for a range of verifiable phenomena from near death experiences to past life memories is that the soul exists separately from the physical body and reincarnates repeatedly this book could only have been written in the twenty first century because it uses the latest breakthroughs in scientific and psychological research to produce a truly revolutionary view of spirituality by comparing this modern evidence with thousands of years of spiritual traditions it finally provides rational answers to some of the most significant and intriguing questions ever posed by the human race what experiences do we have in the interlife between incarnations do we plan all the major circumstances of our lives both good and bad how does karma operate does it really involve action and reaction can we be punished in the ways that traditional religions suggest what practical steps can we take to ensure our karma is progressive rather than repetitive piece by piece this book uncovers startling evidence to support a scientific and rational belief in reincarnation and the interlife it brings together a wide range of research including the incredible insights of thousands of ordinary regression subjects in a logical objective way to produce a major breakthrough in our approach to spirituality no one who reads this book will ever view life in the same way again the spiritual worldview it describes is coherent and rational and has the capability to propel humanity forwards to previously unexplored levels if only we will let it
