the publication of volume 3 of german theologian wolhart pannenberg s systematic theology completes the english edition of a work that will surely come to stand as one of the lasting theological statements of the twentieth century originally published in 1949 and then revised in 1979 this comprehensive introduction to systematic theology has well served countless students and pastors for more than half a century in this paperback edition it will continue to instruct serious students of the bible and theology following two introductory chapters delineating the nature necessity possibility and divisions of theology henry clarence thiessen systematically address a wide range of subjects in eight major sections theism bibliology theology anthropology soteriology ecclesiology angelology and eschatology also included are two specialized indexes for further study an index of subjects and an index of scriptural references that includes over 4 000 entries this systematic theology begins from the treatise de deo uno and develops the dogma of the trinity as an expression of divine unicity on which will depend creation christology and ecclesiology the invisible god must be seen and known in the visible in this way god and gods relation to creation are distinguishedbut not separatedfrom christology the doctrine of perfections from redemption in the end the transcendent beauty who is god can be known only in worship and praise guarino argues in this book that the doctrinal form of the christian faith in its essential characteristics calls for certain theoretical exigencies this is to say that the proportion and beauty of the form is not served or illuminated by simply any presuppositions rather a determinate understanding of first philosophy of the nature of truth of hermeneutical theory of the predication of language and mutual correlation is required if christian faith and doctrine are to maintain a recognizable and suitably mediative form failing to adduce specific principles will lead either to a simple assertion of christian truth in which case the form of christianity becomes less intelligible and attractive or one will substitute a radically changed form which is itself inappropriate for displaying the fundamental revelatory narrative of faith the house of christian faith possesses a certain proportion of structure the form will sag badly if one removes an undergirding item or if one beam is replaced with another of variable shape or size the form s beauty will either be obscured no longer clearly visible or the form will become something quite different no longer architectonically related to what was originally the case the intention of this book is to discuss those doctrinal characteristics considered fundamental to the christian faith as protective of its revelatory form and concomitantly to examine the theoretical principles required if such form is to remain both intelligible and beautiful
