get out run we must leave this place they are going to destroy this whole place go children run first go now these were the final shouts nine year old kim phuc heard before her world dissolved into flames before napalm bombs fell from the sky burning away her clothing and searing deep into her skin it's a moment forever captured an iconic image that has come to define the horror and violence of the vietnam war kim was left for dead in a morgue no one expected her to survive the attack napalm meant fire and fire meant death against all odds kim lived but her journey toward healing was only beginning when the napalm bombs dropped everything kim knew and relied on exploded along with them her home her country's freedom her childhood innocence and happiness the coming years would be marked by excruciating treatments for her burns and unrelenting physical pain throughout her body which were constant reminders of that terrible day kim survived the pain of her body ablaze but how could she possibly survive the pain of her devastated soul fire road is the true story of how she found the answer in a god who suffered himself a savior who truly understood and cared about the depths of her pain fire road is a story of horror and hope a harrowing tale of a life changed in an instant and the power and resilience that can only be found in the power of god's mercy and love excerpt a ship tempest tossed labouring amid the surges of an angry sea her crew on the alert doing their utmost to keep her off a lee shore and such a shore none more dangerous on all ocean's edge for it is the west coast of tierra del fuego abreast the fury isles and that long belt of seething breakers known to mariners as the milky way the same of which the great naturalist darwin has said one sight of such a coast is enough to make a landsman dream for a week about shipwreck peril and death there is no landsman in the ship now exposed to its dangers all on board are familiar with the sea have spent years upon it yet is there fear in their hearts and pallor on their cheeks as their eyes turn to that belt of white frothy water between them and the land trending north and south beyond the range of vision technically speaking the endangered vessel is not a ship but a barque as betokened by the fore and aft rig of her mizenmast nor is she of large dimensions only some six or seven hundred tons but the reader knows this already or will after learning her name as her stern swings up on the billow there can be read upon it the calypso and she is that calypso in which henry chester sailed out of portsmouth harbour to make his first acquaintance with a sea life fire is a fearsome constant in the america west as the author david j strohmaier notes whether we have tended a campfire along oregon's deschutes river in march engaged the advancing front of a great basin wildfire in the torrid heat of august or watched fire settle into the subdued smoldering leaf piles of october all of our lives to one degree or another are bracketed by fire in the seasons of fire strohmaier effectively blends nature writing personal essay and philosophical analysis as he deliberately crosses disciplinary boundaries he discusses the moral dimensions of fire not only whether fires are good bad or indifferent phenomena but also how fire more generally understood shapes meaning for human life the consequences of discussing the moral side of fire speak directly to the contours of the human soul and to our sense of our place on the land strohmaier a long term firefighter himself includes accurate and sometimes gut wrenching descriptions of the firefighter's experience
