this book investigates the geopoliticisation of foreign aid in recent years against a background of global overarching crises such as climate change conflict covid 19 economic crisis energy shortages and migration foreign aid has historically been understood as assisting both with the development objectives of the recipients and with the trade and geopolitical interests of the donors in the first decades of the 21st century however this balance has been shifted by a series of complex global challenges this book argues that donors have now moved towards framing aid as a geopolitical instrument wherein aid can be given or withheld based on power or political intent thus imposing the donor's specific values and norms this book provides an in depth analysis of this weaponisation of foreign aid within a framework of global disruption and ultimately concludes that the world is at a tipping point towards a new socio political world order asking important questions about the power dynamics at play within the aid sector this book will be an important read for researchers across development studies political science international relations and global affairs

owen was a renowned theologian in his day and this work is a piece of theological brilliance in the reformed and protestant tradition the death of christ had a wide range of implications on the fate of humanity and the cause of redemption that christ came to give to us all this work goes over all the arguments that have been set up against the reality of christ's death and owen brilliantly rebukes these arguments and settles it all

some people can't see the forest for the trees they get so bogged down in details that they lose sight of what it's all about others can't see the trees for the forest they miss the wondrous details all around them so why not look instead at both the forest and the trees this commentary on paul's letter to the colossians guides you in doing just that even though we will be exploring ancient biblical cultures and learning plenty about the greek language no prior academic training is needed technical terms have been set aside instead with everyday language we will discover the big picture and revel in the fine details of this stunning letter amazed by how god is still speaking these same words today to contemporary personal and social challenges we will not then be tourists rapidly zipping through colossians as if on a monotonous interstate highway instead we will be hiking our way through this letter step by step phrase by phrase finding joy in god's truth and growing in our faith come and join the journey exegesis from the year 2017 in the subject theology biblical theology grade b 3 3 emory university candler school of theology course master of theological studies language english abstract this exegetical paper engages with romans 13 1 7 one of the most problematic and debated passages in the pauline corpus which has been quoted by many politicians and religious leaders in different ways to solve the tensions arising frequently between church and state accordingly this paper seeks to reinterpret romans 13 1 7 based on paul s character and behavior mentioned in acts 16 26 the first part of the paper deals with exegetical issues namely the world behind the text the world in the text and the world in front of the text following this the paper articulates the relationship between luke and paul and the lukan paul in acts after this the remainder of the paper will focus on interpretation and reflection ultimately this paper argues that paul if based on luke s depiction in acts 16 26 may well not have meant blind obedience when he speaks of submitting to the governing authorities but reflective obedience
