The Constitution establishes the framework for government operations, guarantees civil liberties, and delineates the rights and responsibilities of citizens. Cruz emphasizes that, as the supreme law, the Constitution:

- Provides the basis for all legislative, executive, and judicial actions
- Ensures the separation of powers among branches of government
- Protects fundamental rights and freedoms

Branches of Government

The Philippine government is divided into three co-equal branches, each with distinct powers and functions:

1. The Executive – Headed by the President – Responsible for enforcing laws – Comprises the President,

Vice President, Cabinet, and agencies

2. The Legislative – Composed of the Congress of the Philippines – Responsible for creating laws – Consists of two houses: the Senate and the House of Representatives
