how much do we really know about the place we call home in this sweeping timely book nicholas crane tells the story of britain over the course of 12 000 years of continuous human occupation the british landscape has been transformed from a european peninsula of glacier and tundra to an island of glittering cities and exquisite countryside in this geographical journey through time we discover the ancient relationship between people and place and the deep rooted tensions between town and countryside from tsunamis to roman debacles from henge to high rise and hamlet to metropolis this is a book about change and adaptation as britain lurches towards a more sustainable future it is the story of our age a geographer s love letter to the british and the land that formed them dramatic lyrical and even inspiring an evocative account of fourteen european kingdoms their rise maturity and eventual disappearance there is something profoundly romantic about lost civilizations europe s past is littered with states and kingdoms large and small that are scarcely remembered today and while their names may be unfamiliar aragon etruria the kingdom of the two burgundies their stories should change our mental map of the past we come across forgotten characters and famous ones king arthur and macbeth napoleon and queen victoria right up to stalin and gorbachev and discover how faulty memory can be and how much we can glean from these lost empires davies peers through the cracks in the mainstream accounts of modern day states to dazzle us with extraordinary stories of barely remembered pasts and of the traces they left behind this is norman davies at his best sweeping narrative history packed with unexpected insights vanished kingdoms will appeal to all fans of unconventional and thought provoking history from readers of niall ferguson to jared diamond brexit and the northern ireland constitution considers the intersection of two processes the complex and constitutional process of the united kingdom s withdrawal from the european union brexit and the steady yet fragile development of the northern ireland constitution deriving primarily from the belfast good friday agreement of 1998 interdisciplinary in approach the analysis draws on legal and political theory to develop a novel framework for assessing the progressive impact of brexit on the northern ireland constitution based on systematic definitions of both this approach elucidates dynamics and implications not yet considered in the otherwise extensive debates about brexit and its impacts on northern ireland based on detailed analysis of the brexit process it is argued that its impact on the constitution of northern ireland has been profound fundamentally brexit changed the political and legal environment in which the northern ireland constitution had existed for over twenty years embracing constructive ambiguity the 1998 agreement recognises and accommodates the concerns of both unionists and nationalists in northern ireland it did not therefore solve the constitutional conflict but rather allowed it to be managed differently through an innovative system of multileveled governance within northern ireland power sharing devolution on the island of ireland north south cooperation and between the islands of great britain and ireland east west cooperation all underpinned by a multifaceted principle of constitutional popular and cross community consent by forcing a paradigmatic shift in the way that the systems of government established by the 1998 agreement operate brexit disrupted the constructively ambiguous compromise that it represents completed two years after the legal implementation of uk withdrawal from the eu whitten concludes by considering the potential longer term constitutional repercussions of brexit both within and beyond northern ireland s recently notorious borders from the 5th to 8th centuries ad there was a flourishing trade network linking the atlantic coasts of Britain and Ireland to the Mediterranean and North West Europe bringing imported pottery and glass as well as new ideas from these areas. New material is often found in rescue excavations and it is now recognised that imports from Europe and the Mediterranean are more widespread and more diverse than previously believed. This is the first comprehensive account of this material and is linked to an online database around 1000 vessels from 150 sites are described including fine tablewares, drinking vessels and transport containers for luxuries such as dyestuffs, nuts, wine and olive oil. Finds from some of the most significant sites from this era including Tintagel, Dinas Powys, Whithorn and Dunadd are discussed. The imports reveal aspects of early medieval society which are otherwise dealt with sparsely in the historical record including contacts with the Byzantine Empire and Merovingian France. It is argued that trade was controlled from a few key sites with royal characteristics where wealth was accumulated and used to produce elaborate jewellery. Analysis of the imports gives new insights into the growth of royal power at this formative stage of insular early medieval states.
