the rule of law is widely seen as the cornerstone of any effective polity and increasingly a vital component of the international political system if the international rule of law were to be strengthened it would greatly contribute to trade security human rights and global cooperation in a range of fields yet in many areas the rule of law seems almost absent in international affairs this book explores the institutions that support the effectiveness of the rule of law domestically it focuses on the extent to which similar institutions already exist at international level and analyses the possibility of their further development the authors speculate on how the international rule of law might be advanced in the future thereby suggesting potential strategies for strengthening the international rule of law adopting an interdisciplinary approach and combining the fields of international relations politics and law this book covers a range institutions including un security council international court of justice human rights machinery regional human rights international criminal court world trade organization international tribunal for the law of the sea un department of peacekeeping operations it will be of strong interest to students and scholars of international relations international organisations global governance international law migration law international peace and security law applied ethics political economy political science and sociology in global political economy and the modern state system tobias ten brink contributes to an understanding of the modern state system its conflicts and its transformation in contrast to the political attractiveness of optimistic theoretical approaches to globalisation this book demonstrates how an analytical approach rooted in global political economy gpe helps to explain both the tendencies towards integration and towards rivalry in international relations by way of a historical reconstruction of different world order phases in the twentieth century ten brink analyses multiple phase specific variations of socioeconomic and geopolitical conflicts that are significant for the modern capitalist world system revised edition of geopolitik geschichte und gegenwart kapitalistischer staatenkonkurrenz verlag westfälisches dampfboot münster 2008 this timely book investigates emerging efforts to govern artificial intelligence ai at an international level it aptly emphasizes the complex interactions involved when creating international laws exploring potential and current developments in ai regulation a half century ago the international community made a solemn promise to never again allow genocide to go unchallenged in the early days of the post cold war new world order though international leaders failed to stop horrific genocides in bosnia and rwanda chiefly because western leaders lack the political will to use decisive force to suppress ongoing genocide despite increased attention to war crimes issues in the clinton administration and increased rhetoric about its commitment to halting genocide american military force policy still gives lowest priority to responding to gross abuses of human rights in genocide and the global village kenneth campbell explains why the international community fails so miserably to prevent suppress and punish contemporary genocide the book integrates the scattered pieces of this complex problem political military legal and ethical into a more complete clearer picture of the challenge facing the world today campbell engages in a complex multi level analysis of genocide s impact upon world order and the inter play of politics and morality in the international community s determination of the appropriate role for military force in halting genocide and securing an emerging global civil society campbell recommends practical steps the international community can take to greatly improve its response the next time genocide occurs a next time that will occur there is persuasive evidence suggesting we are on the brink of human induced ecological disaster that could change life on earth as we know it there is also a general consensus among scientists about the pace and extent of global ecological decay including a realisation that humans are central to causing the global socio ecological crisis this new epoch has been called the anthropocene considering the many benefits that constitutional environmental protection holds out in domestic legal orders it is likely that a constitutionalised form of global environmental law and governance would be better able to counter the myriad exigencies of the anthropocene this book seeks to answer this central question from the perspective of the anthropocene what is environmental constitutionalism and how could it be extrapolated to formulate a global framework in answering this question this book offers the first systematic conceptual framework for global environmental constitutionalism in the epoch of the anthropocene the central question of this pioneer work on the responsibility of non state actors nsas and the consequences thereof is to whom are such actors in particular armed opposition groups and business corporations accountable for their actions in armed conflict and in peace times does responsibility in international law apply to these nsas qua groups while much has been written about nsas rights and participation in the global theatre as well as the responsibility of the state and international organisations for wrongful acts by nsas scant attention has been paid to questions of nsa organizational responsibility in spite of their potential to wreak international havoc this volume offers innovative insights into this unexplored territory by analyzing responsibility questions from both theoretical and empirical perspectives this publication provides an overview of major trends and challenges on regulatory and institutional developments at global regional and national levels it also discusses some of the major challenges such as a need to develop mechanisms to ensure consistent application of international standards and monitoring of compliance with a higher demand for non financial reporting and a greater pressure for stakeholder coordination at all levels case studies on financial reporting aspects include one on romania and one on turkey also included are four case studies on non financial reporting aspects on romania corporate climate change related reporting japan disclosure and stock exchanges role in reporting developments more case studies cover the human capacity aspect on the training of professional accountants and on professional accounting qualification systems
